

Kent State Protestors Are Jailed

By SERGIO LALLI
Associated Press Writer

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Police armed only with nightsticks moved across the Kent State University campus today, arresting more than 100 protesters defying a court order to abandon a tent city on the site where four students were killed seven years ago. Those arrested included fathers of two of the slain students.

There was little resistance from the protesters, who had prepared themselves for the confrontation by linking arms and legs to form a square. As police took the demonstrators into custody one by one, they either walked or were carried to waiting buses to be taken to the county jail. The demonstrators have been protesting the pending construction of a $6 million annex to a gymnasium near the site of the deaths and the wounding of nine others by National Guard troops during an antiwar protest on May 4, 1970. A judge had ordered the protesters to leave the encampment, but also ordered the university to delay construction of the gym.

Among the first to be arrested were Martin Scheuer, whose daughter Sandy Lee-Scheuer was killed in the 1970 protest; Arthur Krause, whose daughter Allison Krause was shot to death, and Alan Canfora, who was among the wounded. The arrests began about half an hour after the 8 a.m. deadline set by a county judge. Before police moved in, the protesters were read the judge's order to leave the area and then individual copies were distributed. Demonstrators collected the copies and deposited them in a waste can. Shortly before the 8 a.m. deadline, more than 100 persons had moved to the crest of a hill overlooking the site where the students had been shot. Faculty observers wearing yellow arm bands watched. Residents of the makeshift tent city had voted Monday night to defy the court order to leave the campus before the deadline.

Portage County Common Pleas Court Judge Joseph Kainrad issued a temporary restraining order Monday afternoon directing members of the May Fourth Coalition to leave by 8 a.m. today after 61 days of protest. But in a concession to the demonstrators, Kainrad also enjoined the university from starting construction, at least until a July 21 hearing is held to discuss the gym's location. The university contends the annex would be no closer than 120 feet to the slaying site on Blanket Hill.

About 100 demonstrators have camped out on the hill since May 12, contending the construction would desecrate the area of the slayings, which they want preserved as a memorial. The gathering has frequently grown to 300 during the day. Portage County Sheriff Allen McKittrick, whom the judge placed in charge of clearing the hill, had said that arresting officers would not carry guns, in contrast to the confrontation seven years ago when demonstrators protesting the war in Vietnam were fired on by National Guardsmen.

Skyjackers Surrender In Finland

By RISTO MAENPAA
Associated Press Writer
HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Two Soviet skyjackers surrendered to Finnish authorities early today, ending the second hijacking of a Soviet airliner to Scandinavia in 6½ weeks. Finnish officials said the pair would be turned over to the Soviets as soon as possible.

Search For Boy Resumes

NEW BUFFALO — The search for a nine-year-old LaPorte, Ind., boy, presumed drowned while swimming here Saturday, was scheduled to resume today at daybreak, according to New Buffalo police.

Patrolman Edward Lyons said a helicopter, boat and scuba divers were pressed into the search yesterday for Jimmy Gruszka, a summer resident of New Buffalo.

The boy and a companion were overcome by high waves while swimming at the city's public beach on the lake Saturday afternoon. A Lima, Ohio man, Bernhard Leppla, 42, drowned when he attempted to rescue the Gruszka boy, police said.

The second youth, Tommy Bowmar, also 9, of 28 Berrien street, New Buffalo, was saved by city lifeguard Elizabeth Kingshill, 19.

Lyons said the beach will remain closed until police find the boy.

Scheduled to join in the search today were scuba divers from the state police and city officers; a Berrien county sheriff's department marine division boat and a state police helicopter from the Grand Haven post.

Lottery Game Daily Winner

DETROIT (AP) — The winning number in Monday's Michigan Bureau of the state Lottery Daily Game is: four-eight-four (484).

Alexander Zabinjak, 19, and Gennady Seluzhko, 22. They said both were from Petrozavodsk, the capital of Soviet Karelia, and Seluzhko had previously been sentenced for theft.

The pair commandeered a twin-jet Aeroflot Tupolev-134 jetliner Sunday night on a flight over northern Russia between Petrozavodsk and Leningrad.

Finnish officials said the men would be returned to the Soviet Union in accordance with a 1974 antihijacking treaty between the two countries. The Soviet Union is the only nation having such a treaty with Finland. In the Soviet Union they face prison terms of 3 to 15 years.

An official Finnish communiqué said the first hijacker gave himself up three hours after the last three hostages managed to escape from the plane early today. He was followed within a half-hour by the other hijacker, it said.

Officials said the hijackers had been armed with one hand grenade that, according to preliminary investigation, contained no explosives.

First reports said there had been 79 persons aboard the plane, but later information indicated there were 71.

The hijackers ordered the pilot to fly to Stockholm, where the Swedish government gave refuge to another Soviet hijacker on May 26. But a Finnish official said the pilot apparently bluffed them and landed instead at the Finnish capital.

The hijackers threatened to blow up the plane if it were not refueled and flown on to Stockholm. But they let four deadlines pass without carrying out the threat.

The plane was towed to a remote corner of the Helsinki airport and surrounded by heavily armed troops. Shortly afterward, the seven crew members bolted the cockpit door and escaped through an emergency exit.

The hijackers carried on their negotiations with Finnish officials through an open window. The Finns refused to discuss any concessions until all women and children were freed. Early Monday, 20 women and children were let go, and a few hours later the remaining 20 women were let go, officials said.

The Finnish government then offered the two young men a small twin-engine Cessna to fly to another country, but they refused it.

Air Rifle Pellet Injures Girl; Condition Serious

By JIM SHANAHAN
City Editor

A 14-year-old girl was injured seriously Monday when she was struck in the face by a pellet from an air rifle that discharged accidentally, Benton township police said.

Kimberly Bunch, 14, daughter of Aubrey R. Bunch, 1262 Maynard drive, was listed in serious condition this morning after undergoing surgery at University of Michigan hospital, Ann Arbor.

Det. Dan Peppel and Patrolman Kim Fowler reported

Kimberly was struck between the nose and right eye by a pellet fired from an air rifle held by a 14-year-old neighbor boy. They said the pellet apparently penetrated the skull. They reported Kimberly was babysitting at the home of Barbara Whitfield, 1126 Maynard drive, when an air rifle held by Karl Rathgeb, 14, discharged.

Karl apparently was showing the gun to friends when it discharged, according to Peppel and Fowler, who termed the shooting accidental. A report of the case was sent to the prosecutor's office for review.

Officers said the shooting occurred about 10:45 a.m., and Steven Whitfield, son of Barbara Whitfield, telephoned his mother, and she called an ambulance.

Kimberly was taken to Memorial hospital, St. Joseph, then transferred to Ann Arbor.

Police said Karl Rathgeb lives on Rose avenue, which connects with Maynard drive.

SIT-IN BUST: Martin Scheuer is led away from "Tent City" by Kent State university police at Kent, Ohio, today. Scheuer, whose daughter was killed May 4, 1970 by Ohio National Guard, is protesting university's plan to build physical education building that would take part of the hills that Guardsmen fired from. Scheuer was among group of 100 arrested. (AP Wirephoto)

Sorry, Deadline's Today

DETROIT (AP) — Many people interested in running for the 41 seats on the Detroit Board of Education were given the wrong date for the filing deadline. Earlier information distributed on this year's election, including that given out by the city clerk, gave the wrong filing date. The filing deadline is actually 4 p.m. today, not two weeks from now, city officials say.

Firms Owe $38 Billion In Pensions

By EVANS WITT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — America's 100 largest industrial corporations owe their employees at least $38 billion more in pensions than the companies have put aside to pay retirement checks.

This massive potential debt is more than the companies' combined profits of $32 billion in 1976, one indication that it could pose a major problem for some companies and for their employees.

The bill collector won't come around next week or even next year to collect this debt. Piece by piece, like a home mortgage, the companies have to pay off the debt.

And if the companies fold or can't pay their pension debts, the government will step in.

Paying off these long-term debt obligations plus funding the pension checks due now is quite a burden already for some companies, since it is a business expense that must be paid out of income and thus lowers profits.

For example, Uniroyal's pension costs of $79.4 million were almost four times its $20.1-million profit. McDonnell-Douglas, the aircraft company, made a $108.8 million profit in 1976, but that is overshadowed by the $115.6 million it paid for employee pension costs.

Others among the top 100 whose profits were lower than pension costs include Lockheed, Republic Steel, LTV and Litton. Together, the top 100 firms paid $9 billion for pensions last year — both in current costs and paying off the $38 billion liability.

That's up $1.4 billion from 1975 costs, a 20 per cent rise in one year.

These totals come from an Associated Press study of annual reports and other official reports to the Securities and Exchange Commission by the largest 100 industrial corporations, as ranked by sales.

Despite the huge dollar figures, individual workers' pensions generally are not threatened. A semi-government agency, the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corp., now insures pensions for millions of

Murder Trial Is Starting

Selection of a jury to hear the murder trial of Gregory J. Teron began this morning in Berrien Circuit court.

Teron, 24, of the Twin Cities area, faces an open charge of murder in the death of Mrs. Norma Granzow Maxham last October. The trial has been scheduled for three days in the courtroom of Judge Julian E. Hughes.

Teron has pleaded innocent to the charge, which alleges he murdered the 73-year-old widow, whose body was found Oct. 24 in her home at 232 Bradford drive, Fairplain. The prosecution alleges Teron was a runner at Mrs. Maxham's house just before the body was found.

Teron has been jailed since he was arrested Dec. 10 in Florida and waived extradition. The trial will pit Assistant Prosecutor Scott Beatty against St. Joseph Atty. Donald Bleich, counsel for Teron. Beatty said the prosecution expects to call about 12 witnesses to the stand.

$300,000 In Jewels Stolen In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Jewelry worth an estimated $300,000 has been reported stolen from the 22nd-floor suite of a Los Angeles couple in a deluxe hotel off North Michigan Avenue. "It was apparently a key job," Detective John Duran of the Belmont Area burglary unit said Monday. "There were no signs of forcible entry." Duran said the jewelry was reported stolen by its owner, Victon Bravos, 55, of Los Angeles, who was staying with her husband, Peter, in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel. The couple first noticed the jewelry missing upon returning to the room at 4:30 p.m., the detective said. He said they had left at 8:30 a.m.

Queen Slaying Suspect's Hearing Is Rescheduled

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

SOUTH HAVEN — The Seventh district court preliminary examination of a Bangor man on a first degree murder charge scheduled to begin here today, has been postponed until Thursday.

Carl Lee Johnson, 19, 10 High street, was arrested in connection with the July 11 slaying of Terri Lynn Wilson, 18, who at the time was reigning as queen of Bangor's Centennial celebration.

State police at South Haven said her partially nude body was discovered in the trunk of her parent's car on a rural Geneva township road, a short distance from her home. Police said she had been struck over the head about a dozen times, and stabbed in the back some 30 times.

Troopers said Jolinson had been seen dancing with her earlier at a South Haven bar-restaurant.

Yesterday's hearing was postponed by stipulation of defense Atty. George Dunn of South Haven and assistant Prosecutor Joseph Milauckas Jr. Milauckas said the move was made to give both attorneys more time to prepare for the case.

'Bicycle Bob' Is Beaten By Three Oaks Intruder

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

THREE OAKS — An 82-year-old Three Oaks man was hospitalized last night, after he was beaten by an intruder in his home and then bound for over six hours before freeing himself, village police said.

Robert McCann, also known in the community as "Bicycle Bob," was listed in stable condition this morning at Berrien General hospital, Berrien Center.

Ralph Briese, police chief, said McCann reported he was beaten by a man when he returned home about 3 p.m. McCann told officers he was tied up by the intruder, freed himself about 9:30 p.m. and asked a neighbor to contact police.

Briese said a yet undetermined amount of cash was taken from the residence. McCann was unable to give police a description of the man who struck him in the head with his fists, police said.

Briese said McCann, a long-time Three Oaks resident, was given the nickname by village residents because he rides a bicycle around town.

Even Socrates Had To Learn To Read First

Last week, local industrialist Warren Gast told a group of high school principals and school board members that "a number of subjects that are taught (in high schools) are almost irrelevant and turn kids off."

In today's Editor's Mailbag, published elsewhere on this page, a St. Joseph high school teacher calls Gast "myopic," and compares Gast's educational philosophy to that of Big Brother in George Orwell's novel of dictatorship, "1984." Ronald Willging wants to "broaden" K-12 education to include the "total spectrum of human experience."

We'd be satisfied if the schools could just teach kids to read and write. Virtually every statistic indicates the schools are doing a poorer job each year.

Across the nation, the average Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) score (for college entrance) declined 41 per cent in the verbal test and 29 per cent in the mathematics test between 1962 and 1976, according to the College Entrance Examination Board.

In 1976, younger school children showed slightly improved scores on reading tests. Officials of the National Assessment of Education Progress attributed the improvement to "back to basics" programs instituted recently in many public school systems.

Gast's main pitch last week was that it might be wise to drop courses like "Ancient Roman History" in favor of more emphasis on "life, economics and career education." He has the right recipe for most youngsters; if high schoolers can't read or cipher, it's pure foolishness to think they'll absorb Roman history or physics.

In his appeal for more cultural courses, Teacher Willging quotes Socrates:

"The unexamined life is not worth living."

Socrates said a bundle of other things, too. One of them was:

"How much there is in the world I do not want!" The Greek sage must have had a vision of the tens of thousands of bored American high schoolers trying to learn Ancient Roman History on a "See Spot Run" vocabulary.

Making Energy Pattern From Crazy Quilt Design

Congress reconvenes this week from a hot, exhausting Fourth of July recess to take up a number of items which have been simmering on the backburner.

The toughest of all to bring to a boil is the energy problem.

The senators and representatives resume their study of this difficultly through glasses smudged by all manner of fogs not of their making.

As they were returning to Washington the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries were gathering at Stockholm to discuss strengthening their monopoly-imposed oil prices by production quotas amongst their 13-member conclave.

This has been voiced on several occasions by the OPEC ministers as a stronger weapon than their 1975 embargo which failed to force their western customers to pressure Israel into withdrawing from the territory she seized in the 1967 lightning war.

The quotas is being revived for two reasons; one, to back up whatever future price increases are decreed; and two, as a weapon to bring about a settlement of the Arab-Israeli confrontation.

The OPEC leaders, particularly those whose countries border Israel, are convinced at the moment that the Begin regime is not overly desirous of settling the major disputes between Israel and her neighbors. A production quota, they reason, may be more effective than an outright embargo to bring pressure on Premier Begin to be more yielding than he appears to be at the moment.

Presumably, this will be one of several points for Jimmy Carter to discuss with Begin when the two heads of state meet shortly.

More distressing is the Administration's failure to present an overall, comprehensible energy plan which shows some prospect of solving the problem without wrecking the country to reach a solution.

A key component in Carter's program to reduce U.S. dependence upon foreign petroleum is to prod and push industry into converting from oil and gas firing to coal firing. This includes electric utilities.

So far as producing electrical energy is concerned, the White House, as a sop to the environmentalists, has all but ruled out nuclear generating plants as an alternate to oil or gas fired systems.

The coal conversion theory is rested upon some highly questionable postulates.

Since 1974 the Federal Energy Agency has had the authority to require new industrial and utility plants to install coal burning heat supplies and to force those already in use change over to coal.

The mandatory provisions do not apply if the factories and utilities can show the conversion is not financially feasible, or if the supply, transportation and storage of coal are impractical.

The FEA has moved slowly in the 1974 direction because the evidence is overwhelming against imposition of the mandatory requirement.

As a way around this dilemma, Carter proposes to tax factories and utilities on their oil or gas consumption, and to offer rebates and tax credits to those who do convert.

Last week the FEA conceded the White House's announced goal of 1985 for conversion is five years off schedule.

Carter has indicated he will dress up his interim energy plan in the next few months ahead.

His enchantment with coal is understandable because the country is richly endowed with that fossil fuel.

Under present firing technology it is not as clean burning as petroleum or natural gas. Neither is it handled as easily as its liquid and gaseous cousins.

Returning to coal involves two considerations which Carter stubbornly refuses to acknowledge.

Its cost is bound to inflate the economy and it poses some environmental difficulties not inherent in gas or petroleum.

Thus far, Carter is approaching the conversion idea in the vein of having his cake and eating it.

Some compromises will have to be made if changing the nation's heating supply does not blow up the house it is supposed to heat and light.

GETTIG DEATH STORY PANNED

Editor,
I would like to congratulate you on the way you handled the story on the Gettig deaths (front page, July 9). Nice touch you sadists. And that last line "...the boy was picked up by police last week for allegedly smoking marijuana." What business is that of yours, or for that matter Southwestern Michigan? Hasn't the Gettig name suffered enough for you? Ordinarily, I would have ignored something like this, but your ignorance pushed me too far. All I have to say is clean up your act or write for a newspaper I don't have to read.

EDUCATOR TAKES ISSUE WITH GAST

Editor,
As a professional educator, I must take issue with Mr. Warren Gast's statements to the Chamber of Commerce members and educators regarding relevancy in today's educational curriculum (Industrialist Blasts "Irrelevant" Classes). It is regrettable that one of our community leaders has such a myopic view of education. Fortunately, for our children and our community, it is not shared by many. Mr. Gast apparently would have us abandon such "irrelevant" subjects as ancient history and I would suspect Latin, philosophy, humanities, literature etc. to devote the educational process to modern "life economics and career education."

To exclude the study of the past and pure academics in preference to current life experiences would produce a society of educational enclaves, functional but illiterate, operative, manipulative but devoid of independent thought. Big Brother, in George Orwell's 1984 would be delighted by such a curriculum.

Career education and life economics are important and must be stressed, but only in healthy balance with academic subjects. Life is an eighty year process of which the world of work comprises only a part, albeit, an important part. To purposely eliminate humanities and the total spectrum of human experiences, both intellectual and cultural, from the curriculum is an unpardonable sin for which the individual, the community, the nation, and indeed, industry will suffer the consequence for years to come.

Even Mr. Gast must recognize that productivity increases are directly related to the level of education our workers have and that this education must involve more than just skill training. Industry needs functional AND innovative thinking personnel. Such subjects as ancient history are as relevant to the world of work as they are vital to our democratic way of life. We do not need a merely functional human being, for a machine can do as well. What we need are masters of the machine.

I would advise the Chamber's educational committee to tread carefully and to begin to work more closely with educators to broaden their approach in career education for their own benefit as well as the student's and the community's.

To quote the ancient Socrates, "The unexamined life is not worth living."

Do You REMEMBER?

— 10 Years Ago —
Contracts slimmer down enough to fit the money available were approved by the Lake Michigan college board of trustees Monday night, launching construction of the school's new campus. The total $5,072,048 in two contracts signed is within the $5,235,000 in total resources available for the first phase of the new campus building program.

Funeral services will be conducted in Evanston, Ill., today for Matt Jans, professional golfer who served as pro at Berrien Hills Country club, Benton Harbor, from 1930-1936. A story Mr. Jans, 69, frequently told from his days here was about the day he called to a particularly slow foursome on the Berrien Hills course. "One side, you slowpokes." The four golfers merely stepped aside and let him shoot through. As he went by, he noted that one of the quartet was Al Capone, Chicago gang chief, who was an occasional golfer on courses here in that era.

Grand Opening is now in progress and will continue for three more days at the new Famous restaurant, located adjacent to a filling station bearing the same name about five miles north of Benton Harbor on US-41. Special souvenir dishes, cups, and glasses are being handed out to patrons as part of a program to introduce the new business. Ben Burakoff, and his son, Mayor, owners of the Famous Service station, also own the restaurant, however, it will be managed by H.W. Mack.

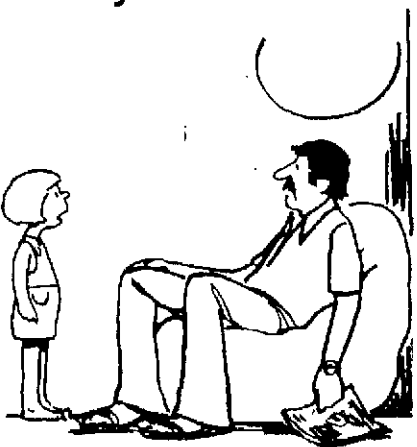

The erection of the steel structure for a new warehouse adjoining the Whirlpool corporation's present Plant 4 was progressing on schedule this week, and final completion of the structure is expected about Sept. 1. ## Silly Season In The House

WASHINGTON — The House of Representatives, always the most rambunctious arm of the government, seems to have fallen prey this summer to a peculiar onslaught of temporary insanity.

Normally sensible members are stampeding this way and that with each passing breeze of public opinion or lobbying pressure, wreaking havoc upon nearly every piece of legislation that reaches the House floor.

Amendments dealing with all sorts of political hot potatoes are being offered and adopted so fast that even their sponsors sometimes do not understand what the House has wrought.

Speaker Tip O'Neill and other House leaders are fighting a losing battle to impose a modicum of order on the proceedings, while Carter administration officials shudder at the chaos.

"Thank God for the Senate," said one exasperated House leader. "They're going to save us from ourselves."

A variety of factors have contributed to the outbreak of silliness in the House, but most significant is the makeup of the body itself.

Seventy per cent of all House members have served less than a decade; just under half have been elected since 1972. They are inexperienced in the complexities of legislation, insecure in their grip on their seats.

The result was predicted nearly 200 years ago by the shapers of the Constitution, who observed in the Federalist

Papers that:
"The greater the proportion of new members, and the less the information of the bulk of the members, the more apt will they be to fall into the snares that may be laid for them."

The Senate, with its longer term of office and more stable membership, "may sometimes be necessary as a defense to the people against their own temporary errors and delusions," the authors — thought to be Madison or Hamilton — observed in the Federalist No. 61.

Many internal House reforms of the past few years have also contributed to the volatility of the institution. The huge influx of new members led to a sweeping overhaul of the seniority system and sapped the power of committee chairmen.

Newer, younger House members no longer hesitate to challenge a committee's recommendations on the floor, even when a complicated bill is under consideration.

The mood of the House is so unpredictable that Speaker Tip O'Neill and Majority Leader Jim Wright have refused to schedule certain controversial bills — including President Carter's proposal for election-day voter registration — for floor action, fearing they cannot adequately anticipate the mischief which might be perpetrated.

"Right now, a lot of these guys are pandering to the worst impulses of their constituents. We're just going to have to see whether they settle down a bit as the year wears on," said one leadership source.

Normalcy Has Returned

"The U.S. has its problems and anyone can compile a list of them, but over the Fourth of July weekend it was difficult not to feel an overpowering sense that normalcy has returned."

This spring I have been traveling a great deal, to California, Florida, Washington, New York, Michigan, Virginia, and the sense was also overpowering that this is some country, especially out there beyond the old cities of the East. On Sunday, July 3, the closing hymn in our local church was "America the Beautiful." Every word of it seemed true.

It is even possible to say a good word for Warren Harding, who coined the word "normalcy." Of course, the Teapot Dome scandal overtook several of Harding's high officials. Before Harding, six presidents came from Ohio. He may have been the last, forever.

Still, Harding's normalcy came as an enormous relief after the Presbyterians' moral strenuousness of Woodrow Wilson, and it is difficult to believe that life has been better for more Americans than under Harding and Coolidge.

In the opinion of one noted historian, Harding "was the friendliest man who ever had entered the White House. He seemed to like everybody, he wanted to do favors for everybody, he wanted to make everybody happy. His affability... was transparently and touchingly genuine."

Shirley Povich, for years a distinguished writer for the Washington Post, tells a marvelous story about Warren Harding.

Povich grew up in Bar Harbor, Maine, a millinaire's resort during the early years of this century. Caddying on the golf course, he was befriended by one of the millinaires, Edward B. McLean, who, among other things, owned the Washington Post, as well as the Hope Diamond.

McLean asked the young Povich to move to Washington, work on the Post, and go to Georgetown. When the boy arrived in Washington, he went to the McLean mansion.

"The servants recognized me... they took me around to the back of the house, and there was the first tee. This was Mr. McLean's private golf course, the one he had built for President Harding. They were just about to start off in a four-some — Mr. McLean, President Harding, George B. Christian, who was Harding's secretary, and Leo Diegel.

"When I walked out there, Mr. McLean grabbed me up, hugged me, and said, 'Great, I'm sure glad you're here, and he put me down and he says, 'Mr. President, this is the greatest caddy in the United States and he's going to caddy for you today.'"

"I didn't know what the heck Mr. McLean was talking about. When he said 'President,' I didn't realize it was President Harding. And so help me, Harding and the Secret Service men got rid of the caddy he had and I took Harding's bag."

"Everybody was having a simply marvelous time on the first tee. There was a waiter with trays and whiskeys. What a grand way to play golf — your own course, your own waiter, your own whiskey, your own trees. Oh, Jesus."

"Another wonderful passage about the period of normalcy occurs in a great essay by Francis Russell. 'It is always the autumn of 1920, the last Saturday in September or the first in October, the Ivy leaves on the stadium wall crisping to scarlet, the sun still ar, the blent air all blue and gold... A freshman still marked with the grotesque innocence of Central high school (he will shed it before spring) passes timidly by the insouciant sophs and juniors, a beany cap on his head brandishing the numerals 1920. The date is, of course, part of his absurdity. For every sheik and sheba knows that 1930 will never come, that there will never be anything but here and now, this timeless moment thrashing to the beat of 'The Varsity Drag.'"

There is a lot to be said for Harding, Coolidge and normalcy. Under their stewardship, the national consumption of ice cream increased 45 per cent. Boop-boop-a-doop.

Let Lomax say it: "Thou, too, said in, O Ship of State! — Sail on, O Union, strong and great!"

St. Joe Schools' Millage Vote Set Aug. 8

The St. Joseph board of education last night scheduled a special election for Monday, Aug. 8, on a 2.5-mill extra-voted operating tax proposition and unanimously elected John Pielemeyer as board president.

The tax proposition is identical to the one rejected by a 161-vote margin on June 13. If approved, the tax would run for three years. An informal board meeting was set for 4 p.m. today, at Upton junior high school to discuss program cuts to be made if the proposition is rejected again. No formal action was to be taken.

Pielemeyer replaces Ray Dumke, who served as board president the past four years. Pielemeyer is beginning his second term. He served as board treasurer during his first term.

Pielemeyer said senior members, Dumke, first elected in 1964, and James Mason, first elected in 1966, declined consideration for the president's post.

Dumke said four years were enough, and Mason said he does not plan to seek re-election when his present term expires next June. Mason was re-elected board vice president, while Dr. Joseph Nines was re-elected secretary and Freddie Sparks was elected treasurer. All officers received unanimous votes at the organizational meeting at Upton junior high school. Schools Supt. Burton Aldrich reported that seven special education teachers at Lake View Gard school and Bellview program at Jefferson school decided to remain with the St. Joseph district next year as regular classroom teachers.

They are among 24 teachers in the two programs, who were offered jobs with the Berrien county intermediate school district, which will operate the two programs in the future. Aldrich said the others either joined the county district, or resigned for jobs in other school districts. He didn't give a breakdown.

Of the 24 teachers, it was reported earlier that about 15 had high seniority and could "bump" regular teachers with less seniority. The seven who chose to remain are among the 15. Aldrich indicated. They are covered by the St. Joseph master teachers' contract.

The board accepted the resignation of Daly MacGrayne, former principal at Jefferson elementary school, who would have been a teacher in the district next year. MacGrayne's post was abolished last February, when 74 teachers and other employees were pink-slipped. Jefferson school and Lincoln elementary school will be headed by one principal, Anthony Belski.

The board voted to sell a $2,000,000 tax anticipation note to Michigan National Bank—Michigan, which offered the lowest interest rate of 3.27 per cent. The payment period is from Aug. 1, 1977, to April 1, 1978.

The board accepted the low bid of $39,100 from Adams Roofing Co., Benton township, to re-roof E.P. Clarke elementary school. The cost will be paid from the 1978 building and site fund.

The board accepted a low bid of $6,570 from Kerr Machinery Co., Oak Park, Mich., to install an automatic chlorine treatment in the high school swimming pool. Business Manager Dennis Percy said the job is now done manually and it costs about $17,000 a year to operate the pool. Percy said the automatic system would lower the annual operating cost to between $11,000 and $12,000. The cost of this equipment also will be from the 1978 building and site fund.

The board also named Peoples State bank, St. Joseph, as depository for school funds; agreed to continue retaining the Lansing law firm of Thrun, Mautsch and Nordberg for bonding and election matters and agreed to continue regular meetings the second Monday of each month. Exceptions will be in January and April, 1978, when meetings will be on the third Monday because of vacations.

Less Than Half Enroll

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Less than half of Michigan's 1976 high school graduates enrolled in college last fall, the state Department of Education reported. The education department said 70,266 out of 145,067 graduates enrolled in college — or 48.1 per cent. The percentage of high school graduates continuing their education in the fall was at its peak in 1969, when the first study was conducted. That year, 58.1 per cent went on to college study. By 1974, the percentage dropped to 46.8 per cent. In 1975, it bounced back to 50.3 per cent only to drop again in 1976. The 1976 graduating class was the second largest in state history — behind only 1975.

Benton Residents Offered Help Cleaning Up Trash

Benton township is employing six young people this summer to clean up rubbish that can create health hazards along roadways. Ken Malkin, township treasurer, said the cleanup service is for both public and private property. Residents with trash problems should call the township municipal office and all complaints will be checked and cleaned as necessary. Malkin said. The young people are under supervision of Ken Berry, supervisor of the township trash and rubbish department. They were hired in cooperation with the Berrien Youth Service and Assistance bureau. Russell Sayles is their counselor. The bureau is a counseling and guidance agency established to assist youths with problems and is to prevent petitioning to juvenile court.

Bentley Is Re-Elected As BH Board President

The Benton Harbor board of education broke a deadlock last night and re-elected Edward E. (Bill) Bentley president on the second ballot. Bentley was re-elected after a first ballot produced a 3 to 3 tie between him and Trustee Arthur Crump. Crump then threw his support to Bentley who was elected 4 to 0 with two new board members abstaining — Mrs. Jacqueline Pearson and Freddie Moore.

The first ballot vote for president was by secret ballot, the second was by voice. Bentley was the only incumbent board officer re-elected as the board held its organizational meeting for the 1977-78 school year. He has been president since 1972.

Melvin Farmer Jr., an incumbent trustee, was elected vice president by unanimous vote of the six members present. He replaces Frank Culby who was not present last night. In 4 to 2 votes, Mrs. Pearson defeated Culby for secretary, and Moore defeated incumbent Janet Scott for treasurer. These votes were by secret ballot.

The board last night tabled reappointment of the Kalamazoo law firm of Jacobs and Ward as labor counsel. Moore said he didn't have enough information about the matter. The board also changed its regular meeting date from the third Monday of each month to the third Tuesday at 7 p.m.

In other action the board appointed Crump as legislative delegate to the Michigan Association of School Boards; appointed Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Pearson as representative and alternate to the Berrien-Cass school boards association; appointed Moore as representative to the Berrien-Cass school boards association task force.

HEARING SLATED JULY 18

Tougher BH Dog Law Proposed

The Benton Harbor city commission last night scheduled a public hearing Monday, July 18, on a proposed stricter dog control ordinance.

Most stringent provisions are a prohibition against kennels for the boarding or breeding of dogs, and a limitation of not more than two dogs to a household.

Commissioner Arnold Bolin said as he understands the ordinance, it would not apply to families who now have more than two dogs. These dogs could be kept until they change ownership or die.

Faced with mounting complaints of barking dogs and dogs running loose, the city commission recently established its own canine patrol to augment service by Berrien county dog wardens.

In other action, the commission voted to use a promised allocation of $1.6 million from the federal Economic Development Administration (EDA) for construction of a marina along the St. Joseph river.

Originally, the city had applied for $5.5 million of the federal public works funds hoping to use the money for a new sewer line and repaving of Empire avenue, a street improvements project and the 224-slip marina. The commission last night voted to use the $1.6 million only for a reduced marina project.

Currently, disbursement of the $1.6 million to Benton Harbor and $1.167 million of the federal funds to Berrien county government is being held up temporarily under a restraining order won in federal district court by Benton township, which is seeking to recover a $1.195 million allocation the EDA had originally promised the township.

Federal District Judge Noel Fox last week set a hearing within the next 20 days to determine if the temporary restraining order should be extended to a preliminary injunction. A preliminary injunction would prevent distribution of the grants in Berrien county until a trial is held on the Benton township suit.

Commissioner Michael Goyatos said last night that the temporary restraining order blocking distribution of the city's grant will not affect the city because it did not expect to receive the grant within 20 days.

Goyatos said the city probably will have to cut the marina project down from 224 to 100 slips because of the reduction in what it had originally anticipated to receive from the EDA. When the city originally applied for $5.5 million of the funds, it planned to spend about $2.6 million on the marina project, he said.

Although the EDA has said it will be allocating $1.6 million to the Benton Harbor "target area," the city must still submit a formal application and receive approval from the EDA for the specific marina project.

Goyatos said the marina project should be given priority because it will "enhance business expansions and spur potential competition through new businesses and commercial enterprises and will augment the general economic development" of the area. The marina is proposed to be built along Riverview drive, from the boat ramp north to beyond Britain avenue.

Two other marinas that would be located nearby are in the planning stages — one is by the City of St. Joseph on the Morrison channel, the other by private investors in St. Joseph township.

The commission also voted to instruct the city staff to come up with a new housing policy which will encourage the building of new single-family homes in the city to replace vacant houses which are now being demolished.

The motion for the new housing policy was called for by Commissioner Charles Yarbrough who said since 1961, the city has demolished more than 250 houses but no effort has been made to replace them with single-family homes.

The exact procedure for promoting construction of single-family homes was not established, but Yarbrough said after the meeting that he hoped to see some kind of an incentive program to encourage private contractors to build in the city.

"I realize that these houses are dangerous and need to come down," he said. "But there's

Atty. Hughes Has Office In Gray Building

Atty. Yvonne Hughes announced she has moved her law offices to the Gray building, 72 West Main street, Benton Harbor, suite 10. The new telephone number is 925-0665. She was previously located at 560 East Empire avenue. She moved Friday, Atty. Hughes is engaged in private practice and also represents the City of Benton Harbor.

been no effort to replace them and I think there should have been."

The commission also approved renewal of annual city licenses for the operation of three taxi cabs by Twin City Cab Lines, Inc., and three cabs by Advance Cab Lines, Inc.

Berrien Marriage Licenses

The following marriage licenses have been issued by Berrien County Clerk Forrest H. Kesterke:

John Edward Stolberg, 28, Chicago, and Marilyn Jean Ryden, 28, Sawyer

Douglas Lee Bowker, 22, and Teresa Ann Kling, 22, both of Buchanan

William Lawrence Van Housen, 21, Dowagiac, and Judith Joy Vergot, 21, Stevensville

David Allen Tilly, 21, and Betty Lou Fryer, 24, both of Coloma

George Ray James, 19, and Nancy Jane Butler, 16, both of Coloma

Willard Ribley Sikes, 34, and Myrtle Roxie Honesuckle, 49, both of St. Joseph

Jerry Alan Magley, 21, LaPorte, Ind., and Cathleen Lynn Carnahan, 17, New Buffalo

BH Woman Pleads Guilty To Welfare Fraud Attempt

Nancy Brantley, 48, of 618 Catalpa avenue, Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty yesterday in Berrien Circuit court to attempted welfare fraud over $500. Judge Julian E. Hughes continued her five on personal recognizance bond to await sentencing of up to two years in prison and/or a fine of $1,000. Assistant Berrien Prosecutor John Fields said Nancy Brantley was accused of receiving $3,370 in ineligible public assistance from March 1, 1975, to July 31, 1976. He said she failed to report that she was employed during that time, which would have decreased the amount of assistance she received.

Oakland's Chief Pathologist Cleared

DETROIT (AP) — Oakland County's chief pathologist has been cleared of Medicaid fraud charges. Dr. Robert J. Silbery had been accused by the state attorney general of billing Medicaid $1,326 for services allegedly performed by a former partner several months after the partner left the firm. Silbery owns four pathology laboratories in the Detroit area. St. Clair Shores Municipal Judge Craigen Oster said Monday he dismissed the charges because "no money was taken since the services were performed." The charges stemmed from a complaint by the former partner, who had been fired and was seeking $10,000 because he did not receive 20 days notice of his dismissal. Silbery had just taken over as chief pathologist in Oakland County when Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley made the charges Jan. 13. "This is all a lot of baloney brought about by an inefficient, inept and incompetent attorney general who needed a scapegoat," Silbery said. "And a doctor makes a good scapegoat."

Tougher Rules Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is proposing changes in the definition of a financially "independent" student to make it tougher to get this classification and qualify for additional college aid.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare says the proposed revisions would help plug loopholes by which increasing numbers of students are being declared independent. The proposals will be published in the Federal Register.

Man Walks Into Dog's Range And . . .

Ira Burton, 19, of 546 Heck court, Benton Harbor, reported he was bitten by a dog chained behind a neighbor's home while mowing the lawn at his own residence Sunday. Benton Harbor police said. Burton reported he walked into the chained German Shepherd's range inadvertently and was bitten on the right calf, police said. Burton was treated and released from Mercy hospital. Owner of the dog, Lattie Steel, 554 Heck court, told police the dog had been vaccinated.

products of Ralph S. Stephenson, Manitou Beach; Chris Pallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Pallas, Dowagiac, looks at wood puppet designed by Mark Davis, Rhinelands, Wis.; artist Mary Beth Barlow of Benton Harbor, displays one of her own works, and

Mrs. Richard (Carol) Humbert of St. Joseph admires pottery with intricate cutout work done by Julia Munn of Anderson, Ind. The 16th annual art fair drew an estimated 45,000 persons to the lake front where other major attractions during the day included the annual ice cream social sponsored by the St. Joseph auxiliary to the Child and Family Services of Michigan and two band concerts by the St. Joseph municipal band.

SUNDAY IN THE PARK Annual SJ Art Fair

DRUMS AND STONWARE: One of the most popular displays at the art fair was the demonstration of the Gato drum by Hy Kloc of Kalamazoo, left, with Hal Van Dyken. Kloc indicated to art fair officials that sales were so good, he hopes to be included in next year's art fair. The Gato drum is made of clear redwood with a mahogany top. At right, Miss Eleanor Anderson of Benton Harbor admires stoneware displayed by the artist, Pat Dabhart of Michigan City, Ind.

NEW THIS YEAR: Mrs. Vance A. (Myrna) Fisher of St. Joseph examines purse designed by Burton Shankman. The leather work done by the Kalamazoo artist was among new displays this year at the annual

St. Joseph art fair. Proceeds from the art fair are used to maintain the art center operated by the St. Joseph Art Association at 600 State street, St. Joseph. (Staff photos by Dick Derrick) buildings to the east in the background. At right, Kim and Liza Kendzora of Stevensville admire weaving done by Sharon Lumsden of Champaign, Ill.

Swimsuits Need Special Care In Summer

Swimsuits are more colorful than ever this season. Two-piece, bikini and one-piece designs abound with the most popular offerings in spandex or combinations of nylon and spandex or cotton and spandex.

Though made for the active life, sunlight, salt, sand, perspiration, tanning lotions and water are hard on the garments.

Keep swim gear bright by washing after each wearing, in a sinkful of suds or in an automatic washer. Remember to sort darks from lights when laundering and do not use chlorine bleach on spandex items.

New Productions Opening At Summer Theatres

SISTER LAKES

Opening Wednesday, July 13, for a five-night run at Sister Lakes Playhouse, Sister Lakes, is Leslie Stevens' "Champagne Complex."

Starring is Toya True, who portrays Allyn Macy, a young woman who seems to have everything a girl could want: a good job for a New York magazine and an engagement to a handsome and successful young business executive. However, she does have a problem. Whenever she tastes champagne, she has an uncontrollable urge to take her clothes off — no matter where she is.

Her fiancé, portrayed by Paul Sovinski, calls upon his bachelor uncle, portrayed by Roger Thurgand, who is a psychologist, to help her, and finds the nephew finds he and his uncle are now rivals.

Curtain times are 8:30 p.m., Wednesdays through Saturdays and 7:30 p.m. Sundays. Wednesday evenings offer reduced rates to senior citizens.

BARN

The Barn Theatre in Augusta will present its first musical production of the season, "Something's Afoot," tonight through July 24.

A mystery musical, "Something's Afoot," will run each night except Mondays.

Curtain times are 8:30 p.m., Tuesday through Friday, 6 and 8:30 p.m., Saturday and 7 p.m., Sunday.

"Something's Afoot" is a tongue-in-cheek mystery with music, a spoof of the whole field of "whodunnits," combining in its zany plot every time-honored trick from a whole shelf of mystery books along with a stage full of lethal prop and scenic gadgets.

The setting is "a country estate in the English lake district," and a diverse group has arrived for a weekend in the country, only to find the host shot to death. One by one, the visitors join him in this fate, victims of "fiendishly conceived devices."

THE CANTERBURY

"The Rainmaker" by Richard Nash opens tonight at the Canterbury theatre in Michigan City, Ind.

HOPE AND CANTERBURY: Hope Summer Repertory Theatre, Holland, left, will open "Death of a Salesman," Friday, July 14. Among cast members are, in back, Katherine Lenel and Tom Lillard, and in front, A.C. Weary and Thomas Stechschulte. Canterbury Theatre, Michigan City, Ind., right, will open, "The Rainmaker" tonight. Among cast members are Steven Grandelius, John Davis and Cyndi Adecock.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Her 'Helping' No Real Help

Dear Ann: I know you've heard of all kinds of mother-in-law problems but mine is about to drive me up the wall.

What can I do about a very sweet mother-in-law who insists on "helping"? When she is a dinner guest in our home Mother G. takes it upon herself to collect all the plates, and stacks them in front of herself after wiping each one with a piece of bread. The leftovers go on a platter! It's a most unappetizing sight — looks like a collection of garbage. Mother G. also carries my crystal goblets to the kitchen, four at a time, as if they were jelly glasses.

What is there left to say after I have told her repeatedly, "Please, dear, I'd prefer that you didn't help"? I'm signing this — Ready To Blow A Gasket. Dear Red: You can stop "telling her" (obviously she ignores verbal instructions) and let her know in a physical way that you will not permit her to do K.P. duty in your home.

When Mother G. begins to collect the plates, go after her immediately and lead her back to her chair — and don't let her get out of it. You may have to "seat" her two or three times, but she WILL get the message eventually and the problem will be solved.

Yep, One Works

Dear Ann Landers: I am one of millions of women who have facial hair. I've already spent over $400 on electrolysis. The ads were misleading. I thought after one treatment the hair would be gone forever. No such thing. Some hairs are destroyed but others 'crop up' nearby. Meanwhile, the spending goes on and on.

My question: Are the do-it-yourself home kits any good? Do they remove hair permanently? They sound wonderful in the advertisements. What do you say? — Sick Of Tweezing

Dear Tweez: Sorry, I can't give you the brand name because I stay away from endorsements, but one do-it-yourself hair-removal kit is really worth the money.

If — and note the big IF — you have patience, are somewhat skilled at handling equipment and if you follow the directions, the kit could be well worth the investment.

P.S. To One And All: Please don't write for the name. I won't give it. Ask a dermatologist. If he's knowledgeable, he'll know.

A Young 65

Dear Ann Landers: My mother died several months ago. She was not only a wonderful mother and wife but a great person who had a world of friends.

My father, who is 65, has started to take out a 35-year-old girl. What is it that makes people forget so soon? My mother gave 44 years of her life to my father. She did everything under the sun to please that man. I never once heard her utter a word of complaint although at times he was impossible.

I know he isn't seeing this young chick because he needs someone to take care of him. My father can cook, clean and chat better than I can. He's self-sufficient and in excellent health. I resent my father for desecrating my mother's memory. What's more, I don't know what I'd do if I ever met that tramp face to face. Any suggestions? — Distraught Daughter

Dear U.D.: Are you sure the woman is a tramp? Although the age difference is great she may be a mature, decent woman. Moreover, your dad sounds like a young 65.

I do not believe a widower who sets out to make a new life for himself is "desecrating his wife's memory." Life is for the living, dear.

Don't flunk your chemistry test. Love is more than one set of glands calling to another. If you have trouble making a distinction you need Ann's booklet, "Love or Sex and How to Tell the Difference." Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request and 50 cents in coin to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

HOPE WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Village Square July 21

HOLLAND — The 21st annual Hope college Village Square will be held Friday, July 21, under the sponsorship of the Hope College Women's League.

Women from Illinois, Indiana, Grand Rapids, Jenison, Zeeland, Kalamazoo, Detroit, Muskegon, Coopersville, Battle Creek and Holland will be bringing their handmade articles to sell on the Hope college campus. Booths will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

This year's attraction will include Altie Specials, Put-purri, Country Store, Baked Goods, Small Fry, Holiday and Gifts, Mousetrap, Six to Sixteen, Farm Market, Knit Goods, International Shop, Kitchen and Patio, Plants and Posies, Needlework and Hope Geneva Book Store.

An act show will be held in the second floor gallery of the DeWitt Cultural Center. Guest artists from throughout western Michigan will be featured in this invitational show.

There will be children's entertainment throughout the day, including rides and games. The Children's Performance Troupe of the Summer Repertory Theatre will be featured at 10:30 a.m. in the DeWitt Cultural Center.

Women from Wisconsin will be bringing bratwurst to be grilled for sandwiches and their famous varieties of cheese and sausage will be for sale.

A Dutch lunch will be served in Pine Grove and a salad bar will be available in DeWitt Cultural Center.

Coffee and sweets will be available at the Viennese Coffee shop. Soft drinks will be served all day and the Ice Cream Parlor will be open on the President's Patio. A chicken barbecue will be served from 4:30 to 7 p.m.

At 5 p.m., and at 6:30 p.m., a public auction will take place in the lobby of DeWitt Cultural Center.

The day's festivities will conclude with the opening night theatre production, "I Do! I Do!" in DeWitt Cultural Center.

Plan Ghost Stories

Stories about witches and ghosts will be featured in the Thursday, July 14, story hour program to be held at 2 p.m. at the Benton Harbor public library.

The program, "Haunted House Inhabitants," will include the stories, "Georgie" by Robert Bright and "Old Black Witch" by Wendie and Harry Devlin.

Students in grades one through eight may enter the Haunted House Reading club until the program concludes Aug. 6.

Movies to be shown at 4 p.m., Friday, July 15, includes "Winter of the Witch," when a boy learns the witch's recipe for happiness: pancakes; "Velveten Rabbit," when a stuffed rabbit learns what it is to be loved, and "Jack and the Robbers," how Jack and animals take treasures from robbers.

New books added to the junior department include, "The Cuckoo's Nest" by Daisy Kouzel and Earl Thollander, Dulac's The Snow Queen by Hans Christian Andersen, Backyard Games by Eric Lincoln and Energy from the Sun by Melvin Berger.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Rarely does one hear of the cause and effect of a "high pulse rate." This is my problem. My occupation involves office work and some tension and pressure are to be expected. I have gained excess weight from not being as active as I was in my previous occupation. Every time I get over-anxious or make a trip to my doctor I get all nervous and my heart seems to beat more rapidly.

Recently I had a physical which was necessary to secure life insurance. My doctor explained to me that this condition might be normal for me but the insurance company didn't like it. If this condition was cause for any great concern, or indicated some serious impending illness, why didn't my doctor prescribe some medical treatment?

My insurance company informed me that I have a physical problem and that my premium would cost more than a well or normal person. Needless to say this has disturbed me and I would like to understand more about the nature of this condition.

DEAR READER — Insurance companies write policies on the basis of statistics rather than individuals. The truth is that as a group, individuals with a resting heart rate higher than 80 beats per minute have several times the likelihood of having a heart attack or dropping dead as do people with a resting heart rate below 70.

The reasons though are that a lot of those people with higher resting heart rates have them from smoking cigarettes, which can increase the rate 10 to 20 beats per minute, drinking coffee or being in poor physical condition. Cigarettes and obesity with poor physical fitness also increase your risk of a heart attack and it is reflected in the high heart rates.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 9-8 Your Heart Rate: What It Means. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 326, San Antonio, Tex. 78202. As it explains, your heart rate is a rough index of your level of physical fitness.

Many people have an increased heart rate from anxiety or apprehension as seems to be your case. This can happen even though that person normally has a slow resting heart rate. The truth is that your heart rates in the doctor's office are not resting heart rates.

A resting heart rate that is persistently fast, in a person who does not smoke, drink coffee, and is not anxious, either means he is out of shape or has some underlying disease.

You could do two things that would help your individual case. You could have your heart rate monitored for 24-hour periods. There are small portable tape recorders for this purpose which you can wear all day just as if you were carrying a handbag. The rate on that will prove that at rest you don't have a high rate.

The other thing you could do would be to have a maximum stress test, as on a treadmill. The high heart rate and the exercise would balance out into the exercise effort and you should have a good result. These two measures should establish to any reasonable insurance company that you simply have apprehension about an examination. If it doesn't you should be dealing with a different insurance.

Schedule Breakfast Saturday

Senator Rejects Carmaker Claims

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A key senator remains unmoved by auto industry threats that carmakers might have to delay 1978 production if Congress fails to come up with a new auto pollution bill soon.

"I've heard it before and it turned out to be hollow," Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., an advocate of tough car emission standards, said Monday.

The House and Senate have passed differing versions of new standards, the House bill being closer to what Detroit wants. Both bills would suspend the tougher standards for the 1978 model year.

But there has been nearly a three-week delay in the House on naming members to a conference committee to iron out a compromise on the legislation. Until both houses approve a compromise, the industry is bound by stiff standards it contends it cannot meet. Congress is scheduled for a month's recess starting Aug. 5.

Rep. Harley Staggers, D-W.Va., the chairman of the House Commerce Committee, said he hoped to begin conference sessions with the Senate by Thursday or Friday.

Staggers said he hoped the emission bill could be wrapped up in two or three meetings, but other congressional sources doubted if that could be done. The auto standards are only part of an omnibus bill governing all aspects of air pollution.

General Motors president Elliott M. Estes said Sunday, "without action, GM sees no suitable way under the terms of the law to continue the production of automobiles into the 1978 model year."

Congress, Estes said, should act quickly so that the legislation can be signed into law to avoid industry disruptions.

If the conferees find themselves stalemated, it may be possible to reach agreement on car standards and bring that portion of the bill back to both chambers for quick approval.

Meanwhile, James McLernon, president of Volkswagen Manufacturing Corp. of America, presented a novel idea for improving fuel economy at the Automotive News World Congress in Detroit.

McLernon said the government should consider a program encouraging owners of older cars to scrap their vehicles.

"If we could increase the scrappage rate of pre-1969 cars by five million units a year...the savings would be 1.7 billion gallons annually," he said.

Volkswagen will have no problems meeting U.S. government fuel standards because its cars already more than meet 1985 requirements, McLernon said.

Aspirin Looms As Life Saver

By DENNIS ESKOW

Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A medicine that may be used to prevent heart attacks in the 1980s probably is sitting on a bathroom shelf in your home today. It is commonly called aspirin.

"Studies published to date are favorable toward aspirin, or unable to rule it out," says Dr. Stephen Scheidt of the Cornell University College of Medicine here.

Cornell conducts one of the 30 clinics around the country involved in a $17 million federal trial of aspirin as a heart attack preventative. A total of 4,500 patients are used in the trial.

The notion that aspirin has something to do with preventing heart attacks began to appear in medical literature about 20 years ago. But there was no laboratory work to back up the educated guesses of physicians.

"Part of the reason we were able to begin the aspirin trial with some confidence was that recent theoretical work seemed to be pointing to aspirin," says Dr. Marvin Segal of Mt. Sinai Hospital in Minneapolis.

Research on heart attacks has led to a complex description of cause-and-effect. A chemical substance in the blood known as a thromboxane causes blood platelets to clump together, leading to blood clots which in turn contribute to heart attacks.

Aspirin helps block formation of the thromboxanes.

However, aspirin also helps block formation of another blood substance, a prostaglandin, which had already been found to balance out the thrombosane by breaking up platelets and preventing clots.

The two discoveries have researchers wondering what role aspirin plays in the complicated process.

"Our aspirin trial is not interested in explaining why aspirin works," says Dr. William Friedewald of the sponsoring National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute. "We merely want to see if it works. The explanation will ultimately be provided by workers in the laboratory."

All the patients in the federal experiment have had heart attacks. They are divided into two groups: one that takes the equivalent of three aspirins each day and another that takes a placebo — a substance that doesn't do anything.

For everyday aches and pains, aspirin substitutes are dispensed.

The patients, ranging in age from 30 to 69, are not told which group they are in. The doctors who examine them at least three times each year are not told which of their patients are taking aspirin and which are getting the placebo. The technique is called a "double blind."

"We are very proud of the way in which the trial was set up. Monitoring is very strict," says Dr. James Schoenberger, chairman of the study's steering committee and a researcher at Rush Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center in Chicago.

Lecture Goes With Cash

MONTREAL (AP) — A

Flint, Mich., woman who fell from her room in a downtown hotel while trying to climb down bedsheets during a fire in 1972 was given a lecture and $845.50 in Quebec Superior Court Monday.

"She lost her cool and suddenly decided to escape out the window," Mr. Justice Yves Leduc told the court in ruling that Martha Kindall's $37,400 damage claim was "excessive, even ridiculous."

He said that instead of taking normal precautions and remaining calm, the housewife "thought it wise to take the sheets, tie them together and climb down."

Pollution Haunts Hoosier Farms

CLEAR CREEK, Ind. (AP) — "We are just discouraged. The land is ruined, the animals are dead and we get sick all the time."

What discouraged Leo and Nancy Haganman, ruined their land and killed their animals? Physicians and veterinarians and state health experts believe it was pollution, pollution caused by polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) — a toxic substance linked with cancer that was washed over their 2½-acre farm over the past seven years when rains flooded

Michigan Man Fined In Britain

WINCHESTER, England (AP) — A Sterling Heights, Mich., man was fined 100 pounds ($170) and banned from driving in Britain for a year after the death of a 73-year-old woman in a car crash May 24.

Judge Lewis McCreevy was told in Winchester crown court that Billy Castor, 56, on a touring vacation in Britain, had a momentary lapse, thought he was back in the U.S., and drove on the right hand side of the road instead of on the left as in Britain.

He drove off a restaurant parking lot into the wrong side of the road, and within yards was involved in a head-on crash in which the woman died, police said. Castor's wife and their two American friends were badly injured, as were three passengers in the other car.

Castor, a maintenance supervisor for a fire firm, hobbled into court on crutches and admitted causing death by dangerous driving.

Judge McCreevy said he hoped it would be possible for Castor to rejoin his wife in the United States soon. Mrs. Castor is reported seriously ill with blood clots from a fractured skull she received in the accident.

I-75 Backups To Continue At Ohio River

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Traffic backups will continue on Interstate 75 at the Ohio River through Labor Day and possibly Oct. 1 because of bridge repairs, a Kentucky Transportation official says.

"However, the contractor will stop all work over the Labor Day weekend," to facilitate holiday traffic, said Bob Walsburger, district engineer.

Interstate 75 is the main artery between Detroit, Mich. and Florida.

The transportation department was smothered by complaints one day last week following a three-hour closing of northbound lanes on the Kentucky side of the bridge, Walsburger said.

Milliken Hails, Criticizes Work Of Legislature

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has praised the state legislature for completing work on almost all of the budget for the next fiscal year, but complained that too much was appropriated.

"It is unfortunate that more restraint was not present in the final passage of the budget," Milliken said of appropriations that exceeded his recommendations by $65 million.

He also lamented the legislature's failure to pass bills containing money to carry government operations through the current fiscal year.

"Among the damaging repercussions of this failure to act could be a delay in providing badly needed beds in the corrections system and the potential loss of a considerable amount of matching federal funds," he said.

But the Democratic legislature has "made a good beginning" in the first six months of its 1977-78 session, the state's Republican chief executive said.

Milliken hailed passage of a $75 million "rainy day" budget stabilization fund, although it sets aside less money than he recommended. He called it "a real step toward providing the state with a more stable budget situation."

Jury Continues Deliberation

By JUDITH RUSKIN
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Jurors have worked their way through a little more than three-quarters of the case against two nurses accused of poisoning patients and a verdict was not expected immediately, court sources say.

The sources said Monday the jurors had dismissed six of the eight counts against the two nurses. The sources said it would probably be a few more days before a verdict could be expected.

The U.S. District Court jury of nine women and three men deliberated for eight hours, bringing the total time spent on the case to 86 hours over 13 straight days.

The longest jury deliberation in recent U.S. history was 80 hours in 13 days by the six-member military jury in the court-martial of Lt. William Calley in 1971. The record for the federal courts here was 32 hours.

Filipina Narciso, 31, of Ypsilanti, was charged with murdering one patient and poisoning three others. Leonora Perez, 33, of Ann Arbor, was charged with three poisonings. Both women were charged with conspiracy.

Defense attorneys have said they believed the jurors were taking the counts in numerical order. Sources said the jurors

Pay Oratory Tugs At The Heart

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — "I do not know why it is," said Mo Udall, "but debating this subject always produces more self-righteousness and more passionate oratory and more posturing and more nonsense, if I may say so, than any other subject."

The subject was the congressional pay raise. And there is little in the transcript of the recent House debate to contradict Udall's appraisal.

Should members of Congress roll back the $12,000 salary boost that went into effect after the House avoided taking a stand on the recommendation of a presidential commission on salaries?

A rollback would lead to disaster, said House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, who reminded members what had happened in 1871.

That was the year Congress voted to raise its pay from $5,000 to $7,500.

"And there was a lot of weakness in the members," said the speaker, "and they went back and they imitated what they did in 1871. In 1871, they cut the pay back from $7,500 to $5,000. The next time the Congress got a pay raise was in 1907, 34 years later.

"If history were to repeat itself, the next pay raise of the Congress of the United States would be in the year 2010."

According to Majority Leader Jim Wright, D-Tex., members of Congress are underpaid. The 26 per cent increase over the salary level set in 1969 was a far smaller boost than other Americans received during the same period.

"If the congressional salaries had kept pace with the adjustments that have been made in civil service pay, the salary today would be $70,500, instead of $37,500," said Wright.

If congressional pay had kept pace with blue-collar pay, the salaries would now be $72,350 and, had it gone up the same percentage as the average increase for the news media, it would be $77,500, he said.

When Howard Cannon, D-Nev., sees the movie "A Bridge Too Far," he reacts a little differently than most viewers. The movie tells the story of Operation Market Garden during World War II, the airborne allied assault on Nazi-occupied Holland.

The assault took place on Sept. 17, 1944, and involved more than 5,000 fighters, bombers and transports, and more than 2,500 gliders. One of the pilots was Maj. Howard Cannon.

Cannon's plane was shot down shortly after the paratroopers on board had bailed out. Cannon and Lt. Col. Frank Krebs then bailed out behind enemy lines.

Cannon and Krebs, who is now on the senator's staff, evaded capture for 42 days and finally reached allied lines.

Ban On Parking To Be Sought By Hagar Twp.

The Hagar township board last night approved sending letters to Berrien county and state agencies asking that "traffic hazards" existing along Blue Star highway at a county roadside park be eliminated.

Edward Broderick, township supervisor, reported the township board will seek to have no parking signs erected along both sides of Blue Star highway, north of Lake Michigan Beach, to eliminate the hazard of cars being parked along both sides of the road at the park.

Broderick said letters will be sent to the county road commission, the county board of commissioners, the Berrien county sheriff's department and the State police post in Benton Harbor.

Broderick said several complaints have been received on the problem, with the latest being filed last night by Phil Nadeau, a resident of the area.

According to Broderick, the park, once a state park, now is under the jurisdiction of the county.

In other areas, the township board approved a resolution consenting to allow the city of Benton Harbor to grant Saluto Foods, Inc., an industrial facilities exemption certificate.

The resolution was needed to verify the firm was unable to find a suitable site for its operation in Hagar township and would not create any losses in jobs by relocating in Benton Harbor. The firm has been located in the township, but is planning on moving into Benton Harbor.

The board approved beginning condemnation proceedings against several buildings owned by Miss Frances DeBorde, Chicago, located off US-33 at Superior street.

According to Broderick, the proceedings were being instituted under the township ordinance against dangerous and unsafe buildings.

The board instructed Broderick to begin legal proceedings against a township auto repair shop owner.

Broderick identified the owner as Larry Schuck, and said the shop is located along US-33 at Lake Michigan Beach. According to the board, the action would be under the township's anti-litter and debris ordinance.

Broderick reported a hearing on upgrading the Hibbard Lake drain has been recessed until Sept. 15.

meeting was held June 30, according to Broderick, with no decision reached.

Coloma To Hear Grant Proposal

COLOMA — The Coloma city commission last night scheduled a special session for Wednesday, July 13, to discuss the possibilities of a pre-application to the federal department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for community development funds.

The special meeting, to be held at the city hall at 7:30 p.m., will give the full commission the opportunity to hear the proposal outlined by Leslie Cripps, of Cripps and Associates, Berrien Springs.

According to the commission, if the city is interested in filing the application, it must be done by July 29.

Commissioner Fred Munchow said he wasn't sure what the city was interested in doing, and doubted if the commission could decide on any particular plan, other than a master plan for the city, by the filing deadline.

Munchow added a designated target area for the program would have to be determined soon.

Commissioner Wavia Noack said not enough information is known about the federal program dealing with rehabilitation.

In other areas, three city residents complained to the commission about the difficulty of senior citizens and pedestrians in crossing both Paw Paw street and Logan street due to traffic.

Mrs. Margaret Palmer, Mrs. Leorey Fritz, and Martin Quigley requested the commission investigate ways to correct the problem.

Mrs. Noack told them a meeting has been slated for Wednesday morning at city hall with an official of the state highway department, Coloma Police Chief Kenneth Unruh, James Noack, city public works coordinator, and Mayor Glenn Randall to discuss the problem.

City Clerk Patricia Beezley reported nine applications for city assessor had been received. The commission plans to meet with each applicant over the next 30 days before appointing an assessor, according to Mrs. Beezley.

The commission rescheduled a public hearing slated for last night on rezoning a parcel of land for use as a skateboard track. The commission set Monday, July 26, at 8 p.m. as the new date after amending the previous announcement to include stipulations the project must be under construction within one year from approval of the rezoning and if the skateboard track ceases to operate, the property would revert back to residential zoning.

ing.

The rezoning request seeks to change the zoning from residential to commercial.

Bids opened for a proposed new storm drain were referred to the city's engineering firm for their review and recommendation. Bids ranged from $14,357 to $23,000.

The commission authorized its engineering firm, R. W. Peirce and Associates, St. Joseph, to complete its study for installing sidewalks along St. Joseph and Washington streets.

Four bids for a new pick-up truck for the public works department, ranging from $4,592 to $4,997, were referred to the public works committee for its review.

Coloma Board Re-Elects Badt

COLOMA — The Coloma school board last night re-elected Marshall Badt as president of the board for 1977-78 during its reorganizational meeting.

Badt, 43, is beginning his 14th year on the board.

Other officers for the new term, all re-elected, were Richard Eastman, vice president; Louis Gelder, treasurer; and Merlin Hauch, secretary.

In other areas, the board approved the 1977-78 school calendar. Teacher orientation begins August 29, with the first day of school slated Sept. 8. According to the calendar listing, the final day of school for the 1977-78 school year will be June 8, 1978.

Board member Edward Messal was re-appointed to serve as the school board representative to the Berrien-Cass school board association.

The board approved a resolution seeking state aid reimbursement toward the district's debt retirement, amounting to $31,980.

The board instructed school administrators to work out details for scheduling a fourth home football game for the 1977-78 season. It appears the Brandywine football game will not be held, unless a millage request is approved in August in the Brandywine district, near Niles, according to school officials.

Two schools were mentioned as possible replacements for Brandywine, St. Andrew's in Detroit or Battle Creek Lakeview.

School officials said home games usually result with an income to the athletic program of between $1,500 to $2,000.

Bainbridge To Name New Building Inspector In August

The Bainbridge township board will appoint a new township building inspector during its August meeting, according to Mrs. Beverly Kuroch, township clerk. Mrs. Kuroch reported the board met last night with three prospective candidates for the position, with each being interviewed individually. All three candidates are residents of the township, added Mrs. Kuroch.

The board must appoint a new building inspector to fill the vacancy created with the resignation of Jesse Marrs effective July 1. Marrs served as the inspector for 11 years. The post pays $1,500 per year plus $5 for each septic tank inspection.

Eight At LMC Offered Grants

Academic scholarships to Western Michigan university (WMU) have been offered to eight Lake Michigan college (LMC) students. WMU has announced.

The eight LMC students are among 69 students from 21 state community colleges who plan to transfer to the university in Kalamazoo this fall. Aid ranges from $100 to $700 a year, depending on financial need, and is renewable for up to three years.

The following LMC students, listed by home town, have been offered scholarships:

Benton Harbor — Peggy

Brown, 2050 Reggie drive; Jane McAlvey, 273 Robbins avenue; Berrien Center — Deborah Simpson, Dean's Hill road; Berrien Springs — Phillip J. McPeck.

Colonia — Connie Berchin, 6611 Becht road; Lois M. Scheffler, 5616 Coloma road; St. Joseph — Jacqueline Laug, 969 Jean Ann drive; Stevensville — Gertrude A. Wadsworth, 694 West John Beers road.

It was also announced by WMU that Clara C. Klutts, of Paw Paw, a Kalamazoo Valley community college student, has been offered a scholarship.

Drilling Bill Watered Down

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill to permit drilling for oil and gas in Lake Erie has been turned upside down by an amendment which would extend the current moratorium for two years.

"Drilling in Lake Erie will only delay the state from finding a more permanent solution to the energy problem," said Rep. Robert Baggis, D-Jefferson, sponsor of the committee amendment. "It poses grave environmental questions that have not yet been satisfactorily answered by those who favor drilling."

The Senate-approved bill had already been watered down in the upper chamber to limit drilling to three test wells for gas only, before expiration of the present ban on July 1, 1978.

WILLARD COVERT
Trustee resigns

New Officers Elected By New Buffalo Board

NEW BUFFALO — The New Buffalo school board last night elected three new officers, including president, and accepted the resignation of board member Willard Covert.

Dr. Benedict D'Amato was elected president, succeeding Charles Wilens who was defeated in a bid for re-election in June.

Other officers include George Cahin re-elected vice president, and new officers Howard Covert, secretary, and Mrs. Caryl Mae Rabe, treasurer. Cahin was also named the board's delegate to Berrien-Cass county school board association activities, and Mrs. Rabe was named alternate.

Covert's resignation letter, dated June 26, said he was moving to Richland, Wash., to accept a job there.

A special July 18 meeting and work session was scheduled by the board to name a one-year replacement for Covert, a cousin of Howard Covert. The board said the remaining two years of Willard Covert's term would be up for election in 1978. Willard Covert was elected to the board in 1976.

In other areas, the board authorized Supt. Walter Schwarz to seek permission from the state municipal finance commission to borrow $250,000 to be repaid from anticipated tax revenue. Schwarz told the board it will be necessary to borrow the money for water pipe and circuit panel replacement at the central school, as well as other repairs there.

After a lengthy discussion, the board decided to again appoint Schwarz and Howard Covert as the board's contract negotiators for 1978-79. Schwarz will be the chief negotiator and spokesman for the board. He was authorized to call the school's attorney for assistance, if necessary.

The school calendar for 1977-78 was accepted as presented. School will begin for teachers on Aug. 31, and end June 8; and for students, school will begin Sept. 6, and end June 7. There will be a week Christmas vacation the last week in December, and a week spring vacation the last week in March.

The board scheduled a public hearing on the 1977-78 operating budget for 7:30 p.m. Oct. 17, in the room 112.

On the recommendation of Thomas Miller, athletic director and assistant high school principal, the board voted to hire or rehire the following people for head coaching positions for the 1977-78 school year.

Max Burnell, rehired as varsity football coach; Merry Froelich, rehired as girls' varsity volleyball coach; Philip Neff, named the new varsity boys' track coach; Sharron Wismer, rehired as girls' varsity track coach; Daniel Warmbier, named the new girls' varsity softball coach, and Roger Vink, rehired as varsity baseball coach.

The board directed Schwarz to seek bids for milk and gasoline for the 1977-78 school year, and to secure bids to finance the two, new 66-passenger buses.

Mrs. Irene Brinkman was appointed deputy to the board for the purpose of supervising all school elections.

The board had no objections to allowing the Cavaliers Marching Band, Park Ridge, Ill., to practice on the football field July 16 and 17, and sleep in the school gym. The band must agree to pay for the necessary custodial services and electricity. The public will be allowed to watch the band practice Saturday afternoon and evening, and Sunday.

It was voted to allow bus transportation for the New Buffalo high school band when band members attend camp at Michigan State university, Aug. 22-27.

Senate Hands Carter Setback

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's policy of limiting international nuclear proliferation by starting in his own backyard gets its next test in the House after a setback in the Senate.

The Senate returned from a 10-day recess Monday and voted against the President's wishes to provide $75 million for the Clinch River fast breeder reactor plant in Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Covert Agrees On Bookkeeper In Long Debate

COVERT — After nearly an hour of discussion, and two separate votes, the Covert school board finally agreed last night to establish the position of bookkeeper at a starting salary of $8,500 annually.

The board had at first voted 4 to 3 to set the range of pay for the position at between $9,000 to $12,000, depending upon experience.

That vote was later reversed by a 5 to 2 margin, after several members said they thought the pay range was too high, and that $8,500 was a fairer figure.

The bookkeeping position had been recommended by Supt. William Randall in part to fill the void left by the resignation of the school's business manager, Alan Dowdy. Dowdy, who was receiving $14,000 per year, quit effective July 1.

Randall said that although he agreed with the board that a business manager was no longer needed since the school's building program had been completed, he doubted that a qualified bookkeeper could be hired for only $8,500.

On the first vote to set the pay range at between $9,000 and $12,000, Jerry Foster, Harold Bracken, and Carl Grigerolt voted no, with Donald Quinn, Alice Blair, the Rev. L.C. Berry, and Ben and Lucas in favor.

After further discussion, the board voted 5 to 2 to change the pay rate to $8,500. Mrs. Blair and Lucas cast the dissenting votes. Quinn said he voted in favor only to end the drawn out debate.

The board scheduled a special meeting for Monday, July 25, to review applications for the post.

In other areas, Quinn was re-elected to his third consecutive one-year term as president of the board. Bracken was elected vice president, Lucas secretary, and Mrs. Blair treasurer.

All were unopposed, although Bracken was nominated for president and Grigerolt for secretary. Both withdrew their names.

The board voted to change the title of athletic director James Babcock to director of athletics and student/community programs. Under the arrangement, Babcock will be removed from his teaching duties, devoting full time to supervising athletics, the summer recreation program, and expanding programs for adults offered through the high school.

As a teacher, athletic director, and wrestling coach, Babcock received $15,821 last year, according to Randall. His new salary will be $15,837, the top pay for a teacher.

The board also voted to have the Lansing law firm of Thrin, Matsch, and Nordberg act as its representative at hearing before the state tax tribunal.

Fifteen Van Buren county townships have asked for a hearing before the tribunal to challenge the division of a 15 mill non-voted property tax levy made by the county tax allocation board. If the townships receive the 1.5 mills they are asking for, which would be one-half mill more than they now get, county schools might lose part of the 8.58 mills they receive.

The county gets 5.25 mills and the intermediate school district .17 mill under the present allocation.

Trash Keeps On Piling Up At Landfill

COVERT — Covert township board members were told last night that people are continuing to dump rubbish in front of the township landfill entrance despite efforts to combat it. Tony Rogers, landfill custodian, made the report to the board in a short meeting. Signs have been posted at the entrance of the landfill offering a $200 reward for information leading to the apprehension of the culprits. Jerry Sarno township supervisor said. But he added no information has reported. In other areas, the board approved transfer of $4,000 from the general fund to the township zoning and planning commission for operation of the commission.

Lakeshore Slates Millage Discussions

The Lakeshore school board last night scheduled two public meetings for discussion of two extra tax levy proposals that will be on an Aug. 13, special election ballot. The meetings will be held next Monday, and Monday July 25, with both beginning at 8 p.m., at the junior high school on John Beers road.

On the ballot will be two separate proposals: one is a two-mill property tax levy for three years; the second is a three-mill levy for three years. A three-year, three-mill extra tax levy proposal was defeated on June 13 by a margin of 1,194 to 684.

In other areas, the board took two separate actions pertaining to lunch programs. After some discussion, the board voted not to permit students to leave the school grounds during lunch periods. The board then voted to spend $11,000 to set up a third serving line in the high school cafeteria to speed up lunch serving. School officials said $3,000 of the money will go for a 24-foot long serving table and the $8,000 for people to man the new lunch line.

Non-certified school employees got 1977-78 pay hikes approved by the board last night. Salaries for custodians were boosted from a range of $4.15 - $4.32 up to $4.63 - $4.80. Secretarial help was boosted from the present $3.01 - $3.12 range up to $4.15 - $4.25.

Bus drivers got a 22 cents hourly increase, boosting them from $1.45 to $1.67. Cooks got an increase from the present $2.70 - $2.88 range up to a $3.74 - $3.92 range.

The estimated cost of salaries for non-certified workers for the coming year will be about $526,449, a $28,000 increase over last year, school officials said. In an annual re-organization meeting, the board re-elected John Steinke as its president; elected as vice president Russell D. Hanson who replaces George Zink; re-elected James Murphy as secretary; elected as treasurer Arnold Nitz to replace Gerald Totzke.

LaRue To Head Paw Paw Board

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau
PAW PAW — Robert LaRue defeated Mrs. Gloria Jean Berry by a 4 to 3 margin in a secret vote last night to win election to a one-year term as president of the Paw Paw school board.

LaRue, 41, is editor of employe publications at the Upjohn company Kalamazoo. He was elected to the board in June, 1976, and takes over the presidency from Mrs. Betty Rasmussen, who lost her bid for re-election to the board June 13.

Mrs. Berry was re-elected as vice-president of the board and Douglas Howe as secretary. William Rhodes was named treasurer, replacing Robert Teske, who had not sought re-election in June.

In other areas, the board scheduled a special meeting for 7 p.m. July 19, to review results of a millage election scheduled for July 13. During that election, voters will be asked to approve a 19.92 mill property tax levy for school operations. The package includes 18.42 mills which expired with the last tax collection, plus an additional 1.5 mills, for a one year period.

If approved, the package would raise about $1,932,000 toward a 1977-78 budget of $3.4 million. The proposal had been defeated by voters in June.

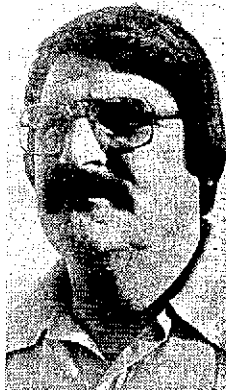

Should the proposal lose next Monday, the board voted last night to set another election for Tuesday, Sept. 6.

The board announced that Michael March, 31, had been hired as assistant high school principal and athletic director, replacing Larry Fortner who had resigned both posts at the end of the school year to return to the Detroit area.

For the last four years, March has been a physical education instructor at Western Michigan university, where he had received separate master's degrees in physical education and educational leadership. His salary will be $18,500.

The board approved hiring the Lansing law firm of Thron, Matsch, and Nordberg, to represent its interests in case pending before the state tax tribunal. Fifteen Van Buren county townships have petitioned the tribunal to review the method by which the county tax allocation board has spring divided 15 non-voted mills among schools, townships, and the county. Any change in the allocation in the township's favor, could reduce the school's share of the millage.

Courses Tabled At Lawrence

LAWRENCE — The Lawrence school board last night tabled for study a suggestion that general health programs be expanded for both high school and elementary school students.

Representatives of a citizens' committee, the Lawrence Parents' Group, suggested to the board that elementary students especially should get better health education.

Supl. Richard Stull said the suggestions will be studied by the board.

In other action, the board voted to join with other Van Buren school districts in intervening in a legal battle over tax funds that the townships in the county have carried to the state tax tribunal.

The townships are trying to get a half-mill in county allocated tax funds that has traditionally gone to the school districts.

The school districts have hired the Lansing law firm of Thron, Matsch & Nordberg to represent them before the state tax tribunal.

Stull said the board last night also rebuffed Gary Austin as the school's athletic director. Austin quit the post several weeks ago, but agreed to resume the duties if he gets an assistant to help out with night games.

The superintendent said the board scheduled a special meeting for July 21 to decide how many of the 10 teachers given preliminary layoff notices earlier in the year will be hired back.

In an annual re-organization meeting, the board re-elected Robert Carpp as board president; James Sanborn as vice president; Rachel Garrod as secretary; and Lester Hargberg as treasurer.

It's News TODAY

8,000 Without Bus Service

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Bargainers for the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority and striking employees were to resume contract talks today as 8,000 riders remained without bus service. The union has made a counter-proposal to a two-year offer its members rejected Sunday. A spokesman said that would be the basis for today's talks. A state mediator was scheduled to participate. Some 215 bus drivers and other members of the Transportation Employees Union were involved in the walkout, the first ever against the authority. All city bus routes in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area, including special runs for senior citizens and an estimated 200 handicapped persons, were closed.

A Ten-Dollar Guarantee

DETROIT (AP) — A proposal adding $10 to the price of a new car to guarantee action by the manufacturer if something goes wrong is being pushed by a Washington, D.C. consumer group. Clarence Dittow III, director of the Center for Auto Safety, said Monday the $10 checkoff proposal would be optional and the money would go to auto companies. Dittow said it would be used to set up mechanisms for dealing with complaints. Consumers do not feel their complaints are being answered, Dittow told a session at the Automotive News World Congress Monday. The center for auto safety receives 12,000 consumer complaints a year. It was founded by Ralph Nader and Consumers Union in 1970 and became independent in 1973.

Court Upholds Firing

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The 1974 firing of the superintendent of the Detroit House of Corrections has been upheld by the state Court of Appeals. Affirming the Wayne County Circuit Court, the appeals court said Raymond L. Walters had not been discharged improperly. Walters sought damages from the City of Detroit and a court order reinstating him. Walters was appointed superintendent in early 1974, but signed an undated letter of resignation. That summer, he was discharged by the county board of commissioners. Walters filed suit, claiming violations of the city charter, his civil rights and the constitutional provision of due process. The circuit court dismissed his arguments, and the Court of Appeals agreed.

Sick, But Not Ready To Die

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese election this week demonstrated that Prime Minister Takeo Fukuda's Liberal-Democratic party (LDP) may be fatally ill, but it isn't ready yet to roll over and die. The conservatives who have governed Japan for 20 years found to their astonishment that after the voting Sunday and by enlisting the support of three independents, they increased their voting majority from two to four in the House of Councillors, the upper and weaker house of parliament. "LDP Manages Not to Lose in Upper House," said the headline in Mainichi, one of Japan's biggest newspapers. But the outcome provides the conservatives with cold comfort when taken together with their near loss of the lower house in the election last December, the decline in their popularity and continuing inflation and recession.

Electric Purchase Hit

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A consumers group has criticized a proposal that two northern Michigan rural electric cooperatives buy a 20 per cent interest in Detroit Edison Co.'s Fermi II nuclear power plant. The Public Interest Research Group in Michigan (PIRGIM) told the state Public Service Commission approving the project "would be a public policy disaster." PIRGIM was to present its opposition to the proposal today in formal hearings held by the PSC. The two cooperatives are Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative Inc. of Boyne City and Wolverine Electric Cooperative Inc. of Big Rapids. Richard Conlin, PIRGIM's energy policy project director, said the purchase of energy from the Fermi II plant is more expensive than the construction of a small coal plant in the cooperatives' area. He said Edison merely wants to sell part of its least economical plant.

Plane Is Still Missing

RAY CITY, Mich. (AP) — The Civil Air Patrol has begun checking small airports and flying routes along highways in its search for a Warren couple missing for a week on a flight in their small plane. But the CAP volunteers found nothing Monday as they flew along U.S. 27 from Charlotte, about halfway between Grand Rapids and Lansing, to Grayling, then east to Lapeere along Michigan 72, a distance they estimated in total at about 150 miles. They were looking for John Black, 56, and his wife, Jean, 53, who disappeared in their green and white Cessna 150 on July 4 after taking off from Macomb County airport for Lapeere in Oscoda County.

Fennville Petitions Oppose Transfer Plan

FENNVILLE — Petitions with 473 signatures of people opposed to transfer of Bloomingdale school students in the Pullman area to Fennville were presented to the school board here last night.

Acting as spokesmen for some 20 area parents opposed to the transfer was former board member Ronald Prentice. Prentice raised several questions with the board, including whether the district would be able to house all of the transfer students, would the district assume bonded indebtedness of the former Pullman district, and bus transportation of the transfer students.

Up to 160 students could be involved. The board announced that an open meeting will be held at Fennville high school, on Monday, July 18, to allow residents

Big Firms Lag On Pensions

workers, assuring them of retirement benefits up to a certain dollar limit, even if the company is unable to pay the benefits.

The $38 billion figure is the total of the so-called "unfunded liabilities" of the pension plans of the top 100 companies. These liabilities are estimates of how much the firm must pay in pensions for all its workers, minus what it already put in the bank and what it plans to put in the bank in the future to pay retirement benefits.

These are estimates based on extremely complicated assumptions, such as future salary increases, inflation in future years and how the stock market will perform.

In terms of total unfunded liabilities, General Motors is No. 1 with an estimated liability of $7.3 billion dollars. Next is Ford with a $3.3 billion burden and Chrysler with $2.4 billion.

In order, the rest of the top 10 in pension burden are U.S. Steel, $1.2 billion; Bethlehem Steel, $1.13 billion; Dupont, $859 million; International Harvester, $820 million; Republic Steel, $837 million; Union Carbide, $830 million; and Westinghouse, $817 million.

Each firm uses different assumptions in determining its "unfunded liabilities," based on each company's particular view of economic conditions and its own pension experience. Although this means company pension liabilities are not strictly comparable to one another, all the figures in this report are those provided by the companies, based on whatever assumptions each chose.

Assumptions on which these figures are based may not form an accurate picture of future economic conditions, so some of these billions may never actually be paid out to retired employees in pensions.

But the federal Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) requires companies to pay off each year a portion of this estimated liability, enough to eliminate it over 30 or 40 years.

Companies also must pay each year for the pension checks going out. Company-by-company, the pattern of annual pension costs is similar to that of total unfunded liabilities.

General Motors spent the most last year on pensions and paying of the unfunded liabilities — $1.07 billion. Next came IBM, with $590 million; Ford, $505 million; Western Electric, $400 million; Exxon, $291 million; Chrysler, $277 million; Bethlehem Steel, $261 million; General Electric, $240 million; U.S. Steel, $221 million; and Dupont, $212.8 million.

Don't blame your age for poor hearing

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone answering this advertisement.

True, all hearing problems are not alike . . . and some cannot be helped by a hearing aid. But audiologists report that many can. So, send for this non-operating model now. Wear it in the privacy of your own home to see how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 9813, Beltone Electronics, 4201 W. Victoria St., Chicago, Ill. 60646.

ADVERTISMENT

Revival Of Watervliet Millage Asked

WATERVLIET — A group of Watervliet school district residents asked the Watervliet school board last night for a second chance to vote on a once-defeated extra tax levy that would help pay for school operations.

Presley Olson presented a petition signed by 243 people to the board, asking that the board set up a special election on an extra tax levy.

Voters in June rejected a proposed one-year, two-mill levy which would have provided the school another $135,000 in state and local tax dollars for operations.

The board last night tabled any action on setting up a special election until it meets in a special board meeting at 7:30 p.m., July 20.

Supt. Samuel Gravitt said it appears to him that petitioners are concerned about the effect on students of proposed cutbacks in athletics, music and physical education programs and teacher supervision of clubs, plays and other extra-curricular activities.

In a related area last night, the board received but took no action on recommendations for trimming its tentative 1977-78 operating budget from $2,100,000 to $2,111,670 because of the failure of the June millage proposal.

Gravitt said that although the school will get more state aid than projected when the tentative budget was adopted this spring, among the recommended cuts will be $16,000 from the athletic program, nearly $100,000 in maintenance operations and capital outlay and another $12,000 in pay for extra-duty teacher assignments. A $30,000 contingency fund would also have to be used for operations, he added.

In other areas, the board appointed Jordan Tatter to fill the board vacancy created by the June resignation of Donald Goodrum. Tatter's term will expire next July.

Tatter, 40, is president and chief executive officer of Southern Michigan Cold Storage Co. He and his wife Mary have two sons. The family lives on Beechwood Circle drive.

The board accepted the resignation of Jerry Barrett as head football coach and appointed him as the school's athletic director. He had served as head coach for 15 years.

Except for head football coach, the board also approved coaches for 1977-78.

They are: Gene Bodnarowski, cross country and boys basketball; Andy Saetre, girls basketball; Richard Becht, wrestling; Sandy Wallen, volleyball; Ron Farne, united track; Bob Freed, softball; and Steve Miller, baseball. No recommendation has been made as yet to replace Barrett as head football coach.

In its annual re-organization meeting, the board re-elected George Shane as board president, elected George Lawton as vice president and re-elected Mary Lou Long as secretary and Muriel Lord as treasurer.

A school calendar for the 1977-78 year was approved by the board. School will begin Sept. 6 and end June 9.

Appointed to board

Galien Sets Vote Oct. 17 For Building Repair Law

GALIEN — The Galien school board last night voted to set Oct. 17 as the date for a special election to seek district approval of an as yet undetermined property tax levy to fund building repairs. The tax rate to be sought will be determined at the Aug. 15 meeting of the school board, it was announced. Voters in the school district rejected renewal of a 1.7-mill tax rate in June that would have funded building repairs.

Dr. Robert Tilmann, superintendent, said an estimated $336,806 was needed to make repairs to the schools. Of that amount, an estimated $250,720 would be used to purchase a new roof and boiler, and make repairs or renovations to heating controls, restrooms, showers and the kitchen. An additional $116,085 might also be needed to fund improvements mandated by the state, Tilmann said.

Tilmann said he favored a millage proposal over a bond issue to finance the work. A bond issue, he said, would be paid over 30 years and require the district to pay $250,000 in interest. The 1.7 mills rejected in June would have raised an estimated $25,000 per year and was sought for two years.

In other areas, the board approved retaining the Lansing law firm of Thrun, Maatsch and Nordberg to represent Tilmann and the school district in a civil suit. Tilmann told the board he, and the board through the superintendent, have been named defendants in a suit brought by Gerhart Malinowski, Berrien Springs.

The suit claims Malinowski was attacked after a football game at Galien on Oct. 15. Also named as defendants are William Roudy and James Wornke of Galien. In other areas, William Geik was re-elected president during the board's annual organizational meeting. Alfred Ghuh was elected vice president. Re-elected were Ronald Frechling, secretary, and Dean Loznack, treasurer. Purchase of textbooks, for 11 new classes, was approved by the board at a total cost of $6,613.

Chicago Camper Drowns In Cass

UNION — The body of a 12-year-old Chicago boy was pulled from Long lake near here about 6 p.m. Monday shortly after he after he apparently drowned.

Cass sheriff's deputies said Samuel Walker was swimming with about 20 youngsters when he disappeared in the lake located about three miles east of this community in the extreme southeast corner of Cass county.

Walker was attending the Sun-Chi-Win summer camp when the accident occurred. The group of swimmers was being supervised by a lifeguard, deputies said. The group, using the "buddy" system made checks every 10 minutes, according to deputies. When Samuel's partner could not locate him, camp officials were notified and a search begun, deputies said.

His body was found in about 20 feet of water. A camp caretaker, Terry Schutter, located the body. An autopsy was slated today to determine the exact cause of death, deputies said.

Deputies said there were no eyewitnesses to the drowning and the incident is under investigation.

If ruled a drowning it would be the second this year in Cass county. The county recorded two in all of 1976.

Pathologist Takes Stand In Allegan Death Trial

ALLEGAN — The second degree murder trial of a work camp supervisor accused of beating a camp resident to death got under way here Monday with the selection of a jury and testimony by my witness, a pathologist.

The supervisor is Daniel L. Thomas, 28, who is accused of second degree murder and assault with intent to do great bodily harm short of murder, in the Oct. 9, 1976, death of a 19-year-old camp resident, Robert VanDusen of Collegedale, Tenn. Thomas is accused of inflicting a rubber hose disciplinary beating that led to the death of the Tennessee man at the Pullman area commune-type camp refuge operated by Seventh-day Adventist laymen.

Thomas was a resident and supervisor at the camp.

The pathologist, Dr. James Clark of Farmville, testified that death was due to fluid in the lungs and kidney failure related to the alleged beatings.

Under cross examination by defense Atty. Lee Roethly of Berrien Springs, Clark said symptoms the dead man showed could be related to diseases, and it is medically possible he died of natural causes.

But he also added that such a ruling would not explain other tissue damage to VanDusen's body.

Clark said bruises and a number of scratches were found on the buttocks and legs of the victim.

Allegan Circuit Court Judge George Corsiglin is presiding. Handling prosecution of the case is Owen Haney, assistant county prosecutor.

The trial was scheduled to resume today and is expected to take most of this week.

Van Rolls, Child Dies

VERMONTVILLE, Mich. (AP) — A 3-year-old girl was killed Monday after being crushed beneath a van in the driveway of her family's home, Eaton County Sheriff's deputies said. The child, Charlotte Shook, was playing in the driveway when the emergency brake on the vehicle apparently failed, deputies said, and the vehicle rolled backwards over the child.

BRIDGE REPLACEMENT PROPOSED: Berrien county road commission has proposed replacing Bundy road bridge, Hagar township, with new structure of unrestricted legal limits. Existing bridge, built in 1906, is one lane with restricted maximum load limit of 3 1/4 tons. Under proposal, any citizen who would be affected by proposed improvement may ask road commission to hold public hearing. Request must be filed in writing at road commission office by July 20. Hearing request must concern social, economic, and environmental effects of project. (Cliff Stevens photo)

Johnson Replaces Kirsch On Hartford City Council

HARTFORD — The Hartford city council last night accepted the resignation from the council of Eugene Kirsch and appointed a replacement.

Kirsch, 38, was appointed to the council last December to fill a vacancy. He cited personal reasons for his resignation which was effective June 30.

Theodore Johnson, 41, of 114 East Oak street, was appointed by the council to replace Kirsch. The term will expire in December, 1978.

Johnson, an unsuccessful Hartford school board candidate in 1973, is a lab technician at Whirlpool Corp., St. Joseph, Ill. and his wife, Donna, have two children.

In other action, the council voted to begin condemnation proceedings against an apartment house at 106 South Haver street.

The council vote came after Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Levy of 105 South Haver street appeared before the council and complained of the home's general deterioration.

Levy described the house as "unfit" for human habitation. The house is owned by Lester Brune of Columbia, according to city officials.

Also last night, the council voted to ask the Michigan Public Service Commission to inspect Chessie System rail crossings at Prospect avenue and North Maple street. The city wants the railroad to repair the crossings.

The council voted to send a letter to the railroad asking them to clean up a pile of debris where the old depot used to stand. The building was sold by the railroad to a Grand Rapids man who razed it for lumber and other materials but left the debris, city officials said.

The council set July 25 for a public hearing on a request by Da-Wel Products, Inc., that the firm be given a tax exemption on a plant addition it is planning. There were no immediate details on the size and cost of the addition.

Hartford Announces School Cut Plans

HARTFORD — The Hartford school board last night voted to make program cuts in view of the school district's financial situation, but indicated the cuts would be dropped if funds become available. A special election has been set for Aug. 8 on two property tax levies totaling nine mills. Voters in June rejected a 10-mill package that included renewal of six mills and an additional four mills. The special vote includes a separate proposal for the six-mill renewal and three additional mills.

The cuts were approved on a 5-2 vote and include all extra-curricular activities, such as summer band, elementary physical education, and music; a librarian; positions of assistant band director, middle school English teacher, high school Spanish, and business teachers; and elementary secretary, art teacher and principal. Also scheduled are reductions to half days for grades one through eight and closing Red Arrow elementary school.

Voting for the cuts were William Austin, Thomas Smith, James Keech, Stephen Shafer and Barry Nelson. Voting against the cuts were Roger Duncombe and Marion Toney. They both said that the proposed cuts would not be enough. According to the board, the cuts still mean that the district could not operate for a full year should voters reject two property tax levies in August. The board approved a resolution stating that the schools would close when current funding runs out, possibly in March.

According to the board, with renewal of the six mills the district would still have a deficit of $168,952. Should voters reject the total of nine mills, the deficit is pegged at $335,819. Passage of the nine mills would allow the schools to remain open but would still require some cuts. The board formally adopted a resolution setting the special millage vote for Aug. 8 and set the millage rate. Keech voted against the resolution, maintaining that nine mills was not enough to operate properly.

In other action, the board approved a wage agreement with non-certified personnel calling for across the board seven per cent hikes. Personnel include secretaries, teacher aides and bus drivers. Maximum hourly wage is $4.85 under the new agreement. The board in a 6 to 1 vote applied for a federal grant of $4,126 for a television laboratory program. Duncombe cast the lone dissenting vote saying that the board should not be applying for federal funds when its own financial condition is in doubt.

In a reorganizational meeting last night, all board officers were re-elected. Re-elected were Austin, board president; Keech, vice president; Shafer, secretary; and Smith, treasurer. The board voted to continue its meeting at the regular date and time, but included an additional regular meeting on the fourth Monday of each month except during June, July, August and December. The board agreed to hold a closed session next Monday to interview three candidates for the position of high school principal. Formal action on hiring a principal will come during a regular public meeting. James Kappler resigned as high school principal effective the end of the school year.

The board also voted to retain the Lansing law firm of Thrun, Maatsch and Nordberg as counsel in a suit by 15 Van Buren county townships seeking to change the division of the 15-mill non-voted property tax rate in the county. Part of the allocation goes to the schools.

Six Grabbed In Drug Raids

CHEBOYGAN, Mich. (AP) — Six persons were arrested and a quantity of drugs seized in a series of raids carried out in Cheboygan and Mackinac City, police said. Those in custody Monday included a Union Lake man, and four men and a woman from Cheboygan, police said. The six were arraigned on charges ranging from delivery of LSD to conspiracy to deliver phenylhydrazine and marijuana. None were able to post bond, police said, and all were lodged in the Cheboygan County Jail. The Detroit-based Wayne County Narcotics Unit assisted five northern Michigan police agencies and the Michigan Liquor Control Commission in the raids. But officers declined to say where they suspected the drug trafficking originated.

Garvey Heads NL Vote; Seven All-Stars Repeaters

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball fans may be fickle, but when it comes to choosing the National League All-Star starting team, they're very predictable.

The final tabulations in the eighth annual All-Star fan balloting released by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn Monday listed seven previously elected starters as returning to the 1977 NL All-Star team.

Steve Garvey, the slugging first baseman of the Los Angeles Dodgers, headed the list of returnees as he became the first player to receive more than four million votes. Garvey, winner of the Most Valuable Player Award in the 1974 All-Star Game when he made the NL team as a write-in candidate, was selected as a starter for the fourth straight year. He received 4,277,735 votes in the balloting, breaking the record of 3,487,398 set by outfielder Reggie Jackson, then with Oakland, in 1974.

Selected along with Garvey were second baseman Joe Morgan, shortstop Dave Concepcion, outfielder George Foster and catcher Johnny Bench of the Cincinnati Reds, third baseman Ron Cey of Los Angeles, and outfielders Greg Luzinski of the Philadelphia Phillies and Dave Parker of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Overall, a record 12,562,476 ballots were tabulated this season, more than four million above the previous mark of 8,370,145 set last year.

The American League starters will be announced today, and the reserves and pitchers for both clubs will be named later in the week by the managers — Sparky Anderson of Cincinnati and Billy Martin of the New York Yankees.

The 48th All-Star Game will be played July 19 at New York's Yankee Stadium.

Four other players besides Garvey, received more than three million votes.

Morgan, a seven-time All-Star and a starter for the sixth year in a row, was runner-up with 3,300,754 votes. Bench, the only player to be chosen as a starter in each of the eight years of fan balloting, was named to the All-Star team for the ninth time, with 3,262,680 votes.

Cey, an All-Star starter in 1974 and 1975, recaptured the third base spot he lost to Cincinnati's Pete Rose last year, receiving 3,102,186 votes. And Concepcion, a starter for the third year in a row, got 3,098,750 votes.

Luzinski, an All-Star reserve in 1975 and a starter last year, led the outfielders with 2,657,722 votes. Parker, selected to the All-Star team for the first time, collected 2,286,714 votes. And Foster, a starter last year in his first All-Star appearance, received 2,161,698 votes.

'Hot' Barrios Stops Royals Stanley Keeps Bosox On Top

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hot and humid weather turned the first-place Boston Red Sox and Chicago White Sox into sweat-soaked Sox Monday night but neither winning pitcher was heard to complain.

"It was so hot and humid out there I'm exhausted, but I feel great," Bob Stanley said after hurling Boston to a five-hit 2-1 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

"Hot weather, I love it; you can sweat and relax," said Chicago's Francisco Barrios, a six-foot, 110-pound 4-2 victor over the Kansas City Royals.

Elsewhere in the American League, the California Angels made Dave Garcia's managerial debut a success with a late rally that produced a 10-5 winning triumph over the Minnesota Twins, the Baltimore Orioles edged the New York Yankees 4-3, the Detroit Tigers outslugged the Toronto Blue Jays 9-7 and the Oakland A's whipped the Seattle Mariners 8-1. Milwaukee and Texas were not scheduled.

The only run Cleveland managed off Stanley was Andre Thornton's fifth-inning homer. But by then, the Red Sox had given the rookie all the support he needed with a run in the second inning on Butch Bost's double and Denny Doyle's single and another in the fourth on singles by Carl Yastrzemski, Carlton Fisk and George Scott.

The triumph kept the Red Sox one-half game ahead of Baltimore in the AL East, with the Yankees dropping 1½ back. In the West Division, the surprising White Sox lead Minnesota by 4½ games and Kansas City by five.

Barrios, a 24-year-old Mexican, was in command after the Sox staked him to a 3-0 lead in the first inning on singles by Ralph Garr and Alan Bannister. Jorge Orta's two-run double, an infield out and Chet Lemon's sacrifice fly.

"I pitched last Monday and had six days' rest, so I really felt strong," he said after boosting his record to 8-3 with his sixth consecutive victory. "I set them up with my slider and struck them out with the fast ball. All my strikeouts were on the fast ball."

"He has all the tools. There's no telling what he can do; there's no limit," said Chicago skipper Bob Lemon, a Hall of Fame pitcher. "If he concentrates, watch out. He got a three-run lead and was toying around. Then, when Kansas City scored a run, he really got serious."

Ralph Garr and Alan Bannister opened the first inning with singles off loser Larry Gura, 5-1, and Orta followed with his double. Orta later scored on Lemon's sacrifice fly.

The Royals closed within 3-2 by picking up single runs in the second and fifth innings but Chicago added an unearned run in the sixth.

Eric Soderholm reached on an error by shortstop Fred Patek, went to third on a single by Brian Downing and scored on a wild pitch.

Dave Chalk scored the winning run on a bases-loaded wild pitch by Minnesota reliever Dave Johnson in the bottom of the 10th inning. Chalk was hit by a pitch to start the 10th and was sacrificed in second. Ron Jackson and Willie Aikens both walked—Jackson intentionally—before Johnson uncorked the wild pitch when he stumbled and literally fell off the mound while delivering the pitch.

Helped by Craig Kusick's homer, the Twins jumped to a 4-0 lead against Frank Tanana. But the Angels scored two runs in the seventh, two more in the eighth and tied it again in the ninth on Bobby Bonds' RBI single after Lyman Bostock's run-scoring single gave the Twins a 5-4 lead in the top of the inning.

Rookie Eddie Murray, a hero against New York all season with four game-winning hits, singled home the tying run in the seventh inning and the winning run in the ninth to give the streaking Orioles their third straight victory over the Yankees. Murray's one-out single over a drawn-in infield came after the Yankees loaded the bases on two intentional walks following Al Bumbry's leadoff triple.

Mike Flanagan settled down after a ragged start and pitched his fourth straight complete-game victory. He scattered 11 hits, including a pair of solo homers by Craig Nettles.

Marty Perez drove in three runs with a pair of singles and Rich McKinney homered, helping Joe Coleman win his first game of the season with help from Bob Lacey in the seventh inning.

Exercises Pay Dividend As Richard Blanks Reds

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
For Houston's J.R. Richard, pitching is "just like a farmer with his crops: you get out what you put into it."

James Rodney Richard has been putting a lot into his pitching lately, and it paid off Monday night as he hurled the Astros to a 2-0 victory over the defending world champion Cincinnati Reds.

"My arm felt better the last couple of games than it has all year," Richard said. "I had a slight muscle problem in my shoulder that I didn't even know about at first. I started doing exercises and got it loosened up and it really helped. A lot of hard work has gone into my performance."

The lanky Houston right-hander outduelled Cincinnati's Fred Norman, giving up five hits and retiring 18 of the last 21 Cincinnati batters. He also singled to lead off the sixth inning and scored the Astros' first run.

"My biggest mistake was the way I pitched to Richard," said Norman. "You don't get careless with the pitcher."

Even Reds Manager Sparky Anderson was impressed.

"That's the best I've seen Richard pitch in a long time,"

Anderson said. "He was outstanding."

"If you want to say we get up more for Cincinnati than we do Montreal or Atlanta, you might say that," Watson said. "When you play the world champions, you seem to raise the level of your own play."

In a light NL schedule, Montreal downed Pittsburgh 4-2 and San Francisco defeated San Diego 5-1.

Despite giving up 11 hits, right-hander Stan Bahnsen hurled Montreal past Pittsburgh, snapping a five-game Pirate winning streak.

Pittsburgh led 2-0 before the Expos scored one run in the third and three in the fifth as Bahnsen, 4-2, hurled his first complete game of the season.

"I've been struggling all year, but my arm is sound, and that's the main thing," Bahnsen said.

The victory was the ninth in 12 games for the Expos.

Catcher Marc Hill drove in two runs while rookie Bob Knepper posted his second straight victory over San Diego as the San Francisco Giants toppled the Padres for their sixth straight win.

Hill singled and doubled for two RBI and shortstop Johnnie LeMaster collected three hits to pace the Giants' 12-hit attack. The Padres, who had a threegame winning streak snapped, were led by Mike Ivie, who had a single, double and triple.

Indianapolis Icers Apparently Doomed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The demise of the Indianapolis Racers does not mean professional hockey is dead here for the future, says an official of Indiana National Bank, creditor of the penniless and apparently doomed World Hockey Association team.

The Racers, admittedly undercapitalized from the beginning and thwarted in an unsuccessful, last-minute bid to secure the needed financial commitment, were turned down by a potential investor and apparently will not make application for admission to the National Hockey League.

"But with the superb facility (the 17,000-seat downtown Market Square Arena) and the excellent market, we have to believe Indianapolis will be closely looked at for a minor or major league franchise in the future," said David Givens, general counsel for the bank.

Givens told a news conference on Monday that efforts to obtain the needed capital to join the NHL had fallen through.

The Racers, members of the WHA for three years, needed about $8.3 million dollars to clean up all debts and make entry payments to the NHL, which has invited at least six WHA teams for the 1977-78 season.

Garcia New Angel Boss Robinson Named Batting Coach In Shake Up

ANAHEIM (AP) — Dave Garcia told the California Angels before his first game as manager that he has no magic ways to transform a muddling baseball team into a contender.

Garcia was coaching third base until Monday, when the Angels fired Norm Sherry, who himself was brought in as manager one year ago in another midseason shake-up by the American League team.

"I laid down some rules," Garcia said Monday night before the Angels took on Minnesota. "I didn't say much. I told them I didn't have a magic wand and we won't win 20 games in a row."

The Angel management, obviously dissatisfied with the team's midpoint 39-42 record after owner Gene Autry spent nearly $7 million for new talent, also hired former Cleveland Manager Frank Robinson as the first batting coach and fired pitching coach Billy Muffett. Muffett will be replaced temporarily by former catcher Andy Etchebarren.

Garcia, 36, a native of East St. Louis, Ill., came to the Angels this season after two years coaching third base, ironically, under Robinson. A former infielder, he spent 15 years as a player (but never in the majors). 14 years as a minor league manager and six years as a scout and coach for San Diego and Cleveland.

Robinson, 41, a Tel Air, Calif., resident, has been jobless since the Indians fired him last month. He was player-manager for two previous seasons in Cleveland, where he went after playing 1973 and part of 1974 for the Angels.

His credentials as a batting coach include 686 lifetime home runs, a lifetime .284 batting average and selection for 11 all-star teams. During his 21-year majors career with the Cincinnati Reds, Baltimore Orioles, Los Angeles Dodgers, Angels and Indians, he was the only major league player to win the most valuable player award in both leagues.

Muffett, 46, has been the Angels' pitching coach since 1971, having spent three years coaching minor leaguers.

When Sherry, 45, was brought in July 23, 1976, to replace fired Dick Williams, he lifted the Angels before his first game as manager from the cellar to fourthplace tie while compiling a 37-29 record. He had managed Angels' farm teams for five years and spent 1959-1962 playing with the Dodgers and 1963 with the New York Mets.

Injuries have stymied what management hoped would be a contending team this year. Multi-million-dollar free agents Joe Rudi, Bobby Grich and Don Baylor have all been hurt, with Grich out for the season.

"I didn't believe it," said Sherry from his Mission Viejo home. "I didn't expect it even though I knew we had lost five in a row. I don't think I did a bad job. You know these things are going to happen, especially if you feel you are not doing a good job."

"I felt I did a good job and don't think they can blame me for where we are. I don't think I could have done anything different...I don't know if changing managers at this point will help the club. Maybe it will, maybe it won't. I don't feel I did that badly I should be fired."

Jump Rope Craze Heads To Midwest

By JOHN VANDEN HEIDE
Sports Editor

A jump roping craze will probably hit the Midwest in a few months.

It's already on the West Coast and is expected to be part of the East Coast scene soon. And if past patterns on these type of things are followed, it won't be long before we'll be skipping ropes in southwestern Michigan.

And for a price, it will be done in style. Besides the common jump rope of a piece of rope with wooden or plastic handles, there are leather ones and a super deluxe version with a digital counter in the handle.

Jump roping has generally been associated with little girls and boxers in training, but it is the rage now because of a growing interest in physical fitness.

The jump rope craze prediction was made at Monday's Twin Cities Rotary Club meeting by Harry Weaver of Chicago, the buyer of physical fitness equipment for Sears, which is the United States' largest buyer of physical fitness gear.

Jump ropes sales are already up 1,000 per cent in some areas, declared Weaver, who says jump roping won't be just a fad because people are learning it's "necessary for our own well being."

"The jump rope is a great aid in improving cardio-vascular circulation," added the 45-year-old Weaver, who once had a heart attack scare and is now using the jump rope as a means of lowering his pulse rate.

Weaver said jump roping is becoming a popular form of exercise because it takes only a few minutes a day and can be done in limited space.

And the move toward physical fitness is real. Weaver said overall sales of physical fitness equipment have gone up more than 34 per cent in the last year and further growth is anticipated.

Staub, Grilli Pace 9-7 Victory

Rusty, Dusty Show Tiger Hit

DETROIT (AP) — It was the Rusty and Dusty show Monday night at Tiger Stadium.

For a change, Rusty Staub wasn't rusty at the plate. And seldom-used Steve Grilli was able to leave the musty bullpen and dust off his fastball.

Staub, a .299 hitter and All-Star last year, ignored his .227 batting average and drove in four runs with a homer and double to lead the Detroit Tigers to a 9-7 baseball victory over Toronto.

Grilli, meanwhile, relieved Dave Roberts in the seventh inning and retired the last seven Blue Jays to earn the triumph. It was his first decision this season.

Their performances dulled a big night for Toronto's Doug Rader. He singled in two runs and hit a two-run homer — his fourth home run in the last five games.

Grilli, a slender right-hander, hadn't had much occasion to talk to sports writers this year. He found them clustered around him Monday.

"It took me half a season to get 'em around here," he shouted to teammates, while grinning ear-to-ear.

Staub hasn't had many reporters around his locker, either.

"I liked it better before," joked Mickey Stanley next to Staub's locker, as writers jockeyed for position around him to talk to Rusty.

"There's not much to it, guys," Staub said. "I hit two pitches good."

The mood wasn't so happy in the opposite clubhouse, where Toronto Manager Roy Harris-field complained that rookie reliever Dennis DeBarr (0-1) shouldn't have been charged with three earned runs in the decisive seventh inning.

Toronto, which jumped on Roberts for five runs in the first inning, led 7-5 before the Tigers came up with rally in the seventh. It began with a two-out grounder by Ron LeFlore which shortstop Bob Bailor threw away for an error. Official scorer Ed Browalski gave LeFlore an infield hit and said he took second on the error.

"The throw has LeFlore out if it's a good throw," Harrisfield said. "I don't care if the Good Lord is the official scorer. How can the kid be saddled with three earned runs? It isn't fair. It isn't right. I know the guy (LeFlore) can run well, but he can't fly."

A walk to Tito Fuentes followed and Staub doubled to center for two runs as outfielder John Scott slipped. DeBarr — picked from the Tiger system in the expansion draft — was relieved by Pete Vuckovich. He was greeted by Steve Kemp's run-scoring single. Tom Verzer singled in an insurance run in the Tiger eighth.

Rader's two-run single keyed the Jay's big first inning. Another run scored on a wild pitch and two came across when second baseman Fuentes missed Doug Auld's bad-hop grounder for an error.

A dropped ball by Scott allowed a Tiger run to score in the bottom of the inning. Then Detroit scored four times in the second, one on a LeFlore sacrifice fly, one on a Fuentes single and two on Staub's 11th homer.

Rader's two-run homer came in the fifth.

Mark "The Bird" Fidrych (6-4) was tonight's Tiger probable, hoping to snap his snarl of two consecutive bad outings. He is scheduled to pitch against fellow right-hander Jesse Jefferson (5-8) of Toronto.

Golf Game Predictable

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — If your golf handicap is 16 and your opponent's is 10 a bet on the round at 50-50 odds should be fair, right?

Maybe and maybe not, says Stephen Pollock, a University of Michigan applied mathematician.

"Only under rare circumstances do these odds come out 50-50, even though that's what handicaps are supposed to do. Generally, the higher a player's handicap, the lower his chance of winning," Pollock said.

Pollock has developed a mathematical model of the game of golf to predict the outcome of both stroke and medal play.

What handicaps do not consider, Pollock says, is consistency. Given equal consistency, he says the lowerhandicap player has the better chance of winning.

Pollock measures consistency through the "standard deviation," of the average, a familiar quantity to statisticians. The standard deviation defines the range in which a golfer can be expected to score about 68 per cent of the time. An average of 80 with a standard deviation of five defines that interval as 75 to 85.

A high standard deviation simply shows an erratic game. But according to Pollock, a high standard deviation lowers your handicap.

Your handicap, according to rules of the U.S. Golf Association, is 98 per cent of the average of the best 10 out of your most recent 20 rounds. All of the erratic nature of your game is not reflected in your handicap since you throw your worse rounds away.

A consistent player — with standard deviation of perhaps 2.5 — will, even if his handicap is 15 strokes higher than his opponent's, "win a little over half the time in both medal and match play" if the opponent is erratic — standard deviation of perhaps six — says Pollock.

"Furthermore, if his handicap is only six strokes higher than his opponent's, he will win 60 per cent of the time in medal play and 58 per cent in match play," Pollock said.

Pollock said his model did not consider such factors as the familiarity or lack of it of the course, weather and psychology.

Especially the tactic of psyching out an opponent. "If you're doped out that the odds are you'll lose," you might try shaking him up with a few remarks.

Barchett Resigns As Panther Grid Coach

JERRY BARCHETT
Ends 15-Year Career

WATERVLIET — Jerry Barchett ended an era Monday night. Barchett, the dean of area coaches, resigned as Watervliet football coach. The resignation ended a 15-year coaching career at the school for Barchett, the winningest coach of modern time in southwestern Michigan.

Barchett finished with a brilliant 93-37-2 record at Watervliet, a .715 winning percentage. Leo Hoffman quit at Edwardsburg in 1960 with a 15-year 89-57-8 mark. Barchett will remain at Watervliet as athletic director and a teacher.

"A lot of things entered into it," Barchett said. "But I've got no qualms here. I was fortunate to be at Watervliet at the right time. I had something the past 15 years that most guys will never have the opportunity to get."

"I think it's the right thing to do and that's the important thing. Fifteen years is a good period of time to be head coach at the same school system. I just want to take the year off and re-evaluate the situation. If I really miss football this year, I may want to get back into it in some way or another."

In his 15 years at Watervliet Barchett had just one losing season, an 0-9 campaign in 1965. He directed the Panthers to a perfect 9-0 record in 1964.

Barchett was selected Associated Press Class C coach of the year after leading Watervliet to an 8-1 mark in 1974.

It was that 1964 team which brought Barchett the most thrills. That squad beat St. Joe Catholic 20-12, snapping a 31-game Catholic winning streak.

"Beating that great Catholic team was the first real thing that we had done," Barchett said. "It was the biggest thing we had done at that time and seemed to get football off the ground at Watervliet."

Barchett coached five All-Staters while at Watervliet, the last being tackle Rick Sawyer in 1974. The others were fullback Rick Sprague, end Jim Hardy and fullbacks Jim Kolenka and Mike Leith.

It was the individuals themselves which left Barchett with most of his memories.

"I enjoyed the individual kids more than anything," he said. "I had a lot of good kids through the years."

"Winning was not that much of my philosophy. I always felt if we had everything else together, the wins would come. And during most of the years the kids lived up to that. We had real squad unity. The kids played together well and played for a cause."

Barchett is co-owner of the Barchett's Athletic Goods with his brother Ron. The two have one store in Columbia and one in Stevensville.

South Haven's Legion baseball team remained in the thick of the Gray Division race Monday night.

South Haven blasted Benton Harbor 13-0 in a Blue-Gray League game called after five innings by the 10-run rule. Hartford nipped Baroda 2-1 in Monday's other contest.

Smith Hurls One-Hit Victory

Chana Smith hurred a one-hitter and fanned nine while leading Bargain Center in a 14-1 victory over Great Lakes Monday in the Plangner women's softball league.

Kim Doty paced Bargain Center hitters with a four-for-five effort, including a home run, a triple and two singles.

Curcini Legus Standout

Carl Curcini pitched and batted Legus Shell to a 7-4, 13-11 twin bill sweep over Bargain Center Monday in Lake Michigan Slow Pitch Association action at the New Products field.

Besides being the winning pitcher in both games, Curcini also went five for eight at the plate. Charlie Shafer was five for seven, including two doubles; Ron Pelkey four for seven, including a homer, and Ron Edinborough, four for seven, including a double.

Legus, which lost twice to Bargain Center in the league's first round, is now 28-11.

Nelson Loftus hit a homer Monday for Bargain Center and Bob Edelberg had four hits, including a double.

Keep Silver Beach Clean Or Lose It, St. Joseph Warns

St. Joseph Mayor Pro Tem Joseph Hanley last night issued an appeal asking everyone who uses Silver Beach to help keep it clean.

Hanley said he has recently received many complaints about litter on the beach.

The beach is open to the public but it has not been cleaned by the city because it is privately owned, Hanley said. The only thing the city does is place trash barrels out and empty them.

Hanley said the owners have been kind enough to allow the public to use the beach, but they do not have to continue doing so.

City Manager Gerald Hepler told city commissioners he would make arrangements to have city workers clean the beach this week even though it is privately owned.

After the meeting, Hepler said he hoped to have a six-man crew begin working on the beach this morning. He said he had obtained the necessary permission from the owners, and the work will be paid for by the city.

He said he had recently inspected the beach and found it to be "very shabby."

The entire beach from Park street north to the St. Joseph river pier is owned by Mrs. Roberta Drake Terrill, of 1404 Lake boulevard, according to Hepler. Her husband, Horace (Chief) Terrill, is president of the corporation that operated the former Silver Beach amusement park.

"These people are kind enough to let us use their property," Hanley said. "It seems to me the least we can do is keep it clean."

Hanley was presiding over the city commission meeting last night in the absence of Mayor Franklin Smith.

The city commission last night approved plans for construction of a two-story branch office of Peoples Savings Association to be built on the northeast corner of Main and Broad streets.

The city planning commission approved the plans last Thursday with the recommendation that Peoples Savings lease six additional parking spaces to bring the total to 37, the minimum required by city ordinance for that size building.

City commissioners said last night the city is willing to lease the additional parking spaces.

The estimated $400,000 structure will be built on land purchased for $63,000 from the city under an agreement last December.

In other areas, the commission voted to give Mrs. Carmen Green until Aug. 8 to hire a contractor and take out necessary building permits to renovate her home at 3320 Lake Shore drive.

If the work is not underway by that date, commissioners told Mrs. Green, they will make a determination on having the structure razed.

City officials declared the structure unsafe and a public nuisance after an inspection May 6. According to Carl Conklin, director of building and inspections, the structure requires several thousand dollars of repairs to bring it up to code standards.

Mrs. Green said last night that a contractor from Colonia had given her an estimate of $4,025 for the necessary work. She said she was willing to spend that much money but she would rather have her father do some of the work.

At a city commission meeting June 20, Mrs. Green had been given three weeks to come up with a plan for renovating the house.

Last night, she told commissioners that in the ensuing period, she experienced difficulty in getting contractors to come out and make estimates and consequently has not made the necessary arrangements to have the work done.

Mrs. Green has told commissioners she purchased the house about five years ago from Leonard Kublick, of route 3, Coloma, Kublick, who was present at the June 20 meeting, told commissioners he was in the process of foreclosing on the loan.

Last night, Mrs. Green said the dispute over foreclosure still has not been settled but she nevertheless wants to proceed with renovations.

"Until a judge tells me different, I am owner of that house, I do believe," she said.

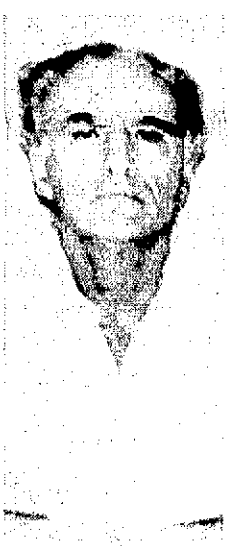

The commission voted first reading approval for a proposed ordinance that would prohibit the use of motorcycles, motor scooters, off-road vehicles and snowmobiles in city parks and on city beaches except where designated.

The ordinance must win two separate approvals before it goes into effect. It was requested by Police Chief William Mihalik, according to City Atty. Arthur G. Preston Jr.

The commission voted to purchase a 33 by 132 foot vacant lot at 301 Church street for $6,500 from Patrick J. McMullen, of 1100 St. Joseph drive.

The lot is in a three-block area the city is presently acquiring for redevelopment into an office district.

The commission voted to allow the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation to hold a two-day door-to-door campaign to solicit contributions sometime between Sept. 5 and 16.

PARK UNDERWAY: Development of Arthur Dodd park near Cass county community of Summerville is underway, again. County has 25-year lease on 51-acre park, located on both sides of Dowagiac creek, near Creek road. Vernon Henderson, county road commission engineer-manager, said plans call for baseball fields, day camp and picnic area, along with bridge to span Dowagiac creek. No cost estimate has been set, but he added county hopes state will join in paying development costs. Picnic area should be completed soon, he said. Pond on property was once used by state to raise fish. Park is named in honor of Arthur Dodd, member of pioneer family in Cass county. County officials have pressed for development of park since 1959. (Dick Cooper photo)

Bangor's City Employees Cool On Life Insurance

BANGOR — The Bangor city council was told last night that some full-time city employees don't want $10,000 life insurance policies, even though the city would pay the entire premium.

The policies along with an across-the-board hourly wage increase of 22 cents were offered to the city's 17 full-time employees by the council at its last meeting.

At last night's meeting Earl Perry, director of public works, told the council that in an informal vote the seven workers in his department accepted the raise but said they didn't want the insurance policies.

The council decided to set up a meeting between employees and Frank Petelle, State Farm Insurance agent. The employees will then vote on the entire package.

In other action, the council set July 25 at 7:45 p.m. for a public hearing on a request for a tax exemption certificate from Du-Wel Products, Inc.

The first step toward getting the tax exemption was made last month when a $750,000 addition to the plant was designed.

ated an industrial development district. If eventually approved, the firm would not be required to pay half of the tax on the addition for 12 years.

It was also announced that bids on a new bulldozer, to replace the 1968 model now in use, and for painting the trim and doors at city hall will be opened at the Aug. 8 meeting.

The council voted to improve the shoulders on some of the side streets in the city. Holes and standing water along the shoulders have been a problem, the council said.

Bridgman School Board Elects 1977-78 Officers

BRIDGMAN — The Bridgman school board last night unanimously elected officers for the 1977-78 year at a reorganizational meeting.

Dr. Kenneth Kieft was elected president. He replaces Robert Roth. Re-elected vice president was Joseph Lozano. Dr. Joseph Rambo was elected secretary replacing Lewis Mattias, and new board member John Wilk was elected treasurer replacing Dorothy Mathew.

In other action, the board formally adopted its 1977-78 operating budget of $2,306,856. The budget is $60,626 higher than last year's budget of $2,346,230.

The board tabled action on two bids for school cleaning services to allow time for review of specifications. Action is expected at the board's August meeting. Ross cleaning service, St. Joseph, bid $39,805 while FTF Building service, Martinsville, Ohio, was the apparent low bidder at $37,905. Ross currently does the cleaning.

The cleaning contract touched off a controversy late last year about the nearly $40,000 that was being paid to Ross for cleaning services. A University of Michigan team hired by the board in January to assess the service reported the service was "very good." The board voted to accept the low bid for nine radios and a base station for the school buses at a cost of $8,578.

The board learned from architects, Daverman and associates, Grand Rapids, that state-mandated safety equipment for the new Reed middle school under construction will boost the cost $3,356. Also the architects said termite control measures would add another $2,508.

A committee of Wilk and Dr. Kieft was appointed to hear presentations from two auditing firms under consideration for the coming year. Raymond Roberts, Berrien Springs, is currently the auditor and is again under consideration.

LEGION GERM BLAMED
ATLANTA (AP) — The bacterium responsible for "Legionnaires' disease" apparently has caused 19 cases of pneumonia since last August, the national Center for Disease Control says.

Lawton Schools To Hire Counsel For Tax Battle

LAWTON — The Lawton school board last night voted to hire legal counsel to fight an effort by the county's townships which are trying to get an extra half-mill in allocated tax funds.

Dr. Ray Bandlow, superintendent, said several school districts in the county will share legal costs in intervening in an appeal the townships have made to the state tax tribunal.

The townships went to the state tax tribunal after the Van Buren county allocation board voted not to give the townships an extra half mill that most likely would have been taken from the school districts in the county.

Named as the legal counsel for the schools is the law firm of Thran, Mantsch & Nordberg of Lansing.

Bandlow said that in the case of Lawton, if the half mill is transferred, the townships would receive an extra $13,000 while the school, with a lower millage rate, would lose an estimated $25,000 in state aid.

That would mean a deficit budget for the district and would force the board to ask voters to approve another extra tax levy, Bandlow said.

In other action last night, the board voted to borrow $205,000 for up to one year for school operations until the district begins receiving state aid funds. It will borrow the money at a 4.20 per cent interest rate from the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Kalamazoo which submitted the low interest bid. Two other banks submitted higher bids.

The board approved a merit pay increase for the elementary principal, Mrs. Betty Knapp. The six per cent increase boosts her salary to $17,000 yearly, the superintendent said.

In an annual reorganization meeting, the incumbent board officers were all re-elected. Board officers for the 1977-78 year are: Robert Kane, president; Robert Paeker, vice president; Jeanne Nesbitt, secretary; and Richard Haynor, treasurer.

Fennville Grants Raises To City's Four Employees

FENNVILLE — The Fennville city commission last night granted seven per cent pay increases to the city's four full-time employees, effective July 1. Money for the pay increases had been budgeted earlier.

In addition to a seven per cent raise, Maintenance Supervisor Pete Ridgeway was given a 25 cent an hour raise because, according to Mayor Pro Tem James Clary, Ridgeway has been head of the department for eight months.

With the increases, Ridgeway will earn $5.07 an hour, compared to his former rate of $4.50 an hour. Clerk Dorothy Garlock's hourly rate will increase from $3.25 to $3.48. Rates for two hourly maintenance employees will also be raised.

In other areas, a 3 1/2-mile stretch of 58th street between M-89 and the northern city limits won't be repaved until next spring under a three-step plan adopted last night.

Under the plan recommended by consulting engineer Donald Ratkin, final asphalt will be delayed until spring so the roadbed can be compacted over the winter, assuring a better paving job, Ratkin said.

Cost of repaving the section of the road north of M-89 and improving drainage on 58th street south of M-89 will be about $65,000, commissioners said.

Step 1 calls for grading and filling the road base and surfacing it with gravel. Step 2 is to enlarge the storm sewer at the intersection of 58th and M-89 and to run a 30-inch drain beside 58th street for about 1,000 feet south of the intersection.

Those steps should be completed by fall, Ratkin said, and Step 3, the asphaltizing of 58th street north to the city limits, will be accomplished next spring.

In a related matter, Commissioner Ned Hale said the $13,500 contingency fund in the current budget will be earmarked in the fall, after the 58th street expenses are more exactly known.

Hale also reported that the city ended its fiscal year June 30 with a $30,135 surplus. The surplus earlier was presumed to be $33,000, he said.

Commissioner Charles Dickinson said many residents have complained about rusty water. The Michigan Fruit Canners plant, now in full operation, tends to keep the water system "stirred up" because it uses so much water, he said.

Commissioner Charles Hale said the Fennville Area ambulance service committee will meet July 18 at 8 p.m. to discuss reimbursing the year-end balance of $8,200 to members. He also said that Sangate township is interested in having ambulance service south of the Kalamazoo river, excluding Douglas. Plans for admitting new municipalities to the service will be discussed.

Clary asked the commissioners to be prepared at the next meeting Aug. 1 to suggest a replacement for Robert McCracken, who resigned June 20.

Youth Training Rapped

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Federal job training programs have failed to make young people truly employable, says state Labor Director Keith Mohr. "Remedial employment services have not provided youth with job skills" which can be used in private business after leaving the federal program, Mohr said. Addressing a conference on youth employment, Mohr said: "Most youth upon leaving work experience programs in the public sector are no better off from a saleable skill standpoint than when they entered the program. He told the conference that 20,000 to 40,000 young people in Michigan need immediate employment and training services. The number of young people unemployed in the state is estimated at 200,000.

Dowagiac Gets School Security System

DOWAGIAC — A new security system for the high school here was approved by the Dowagiac school board last night. It will be the first security system at the school, according to Supt. Lionel J. Stacey.

The board authorized installation of the system by sonification of Berrien County, Benton Harbor, at a cost of $1,800 with a telephone line and rental fee of $180 per month.

The bid was among three with the two other bidders using motion detector units. The Sonitrol system has listening devices in the building hooked into a speaker system where people can hear the noises in buildings and then contact police. Motion detector units detect movement in buildings and an alarm system alerts police. Stacey said he felt the Sonitrol system was more effective.

Stacey said he recommended a security system because of a high incidence of school break-ins during the past year. Loss due to vandalism last year, he said, amounted to some $4,600.

In other action, the board approved an almost total realignment in administrative areas and approved salaries for administrative and supervisory personnel.

Stacey said that with the realignment, administrative and supervisory salary totals for the 1977-78 school year would be $180 less than the totals for last year.

Among the changes approved were reassignments for all K-4 and middle school principals. They included Jacqueline Burden, from Lincoln to Sister Lakes elementary; Dexter Clough, from Patrick Hamilton middle school to Justus Gage elementary; Muri Rector, from Kincheloe elementary to McKinley elementary; and David Strlekar, from Sister Lakes elementary to combined principalship of Kincheloe and Lincoln schools.

Other changes included naming Herbert Burden, former principal at McKinley to the newly created position of group director. He will direct the transportation, warehouse and custodial crews. The board eliminated the position of middle school director and named Brian Opra, who held that position, as middle school program coordinator and principal of Patrick Hamilton middle school.

Also, the board combined positions of assistant high school principal and athletic director into one position and re-named the position of director of curriculum and certified personnel as assistant superintendent. St. Miller who held the old title will continue under the new title.

New salaries approved last night included assistant superintendent, $26,000; business affairs manager, $23,000; high school principal, $21,000; high school administrative assistant, $19,000; assistant high school principal and athletic director, $21,000; middle school coordinator and Patrick Hamilton principal, $22,000; Central school principal, $19,500; middle school administrative assistant and athletic director, $13,250; Justus Gage principal, $18,750; McKinley principal, $18,250; Sister Lakes principal, $18,500; Kincheloe and Lincoln principal, $20,500.

Other supervisory salaries included Title four director, $17,300; group director, $18,500; maintenance supervisor, $14,000; dispatch supervisor, $11,000; warehouse supervisor, $11,500; custodial supervisor, $11,000; office manager and secretary to the superintendent, $15,500; and financial assistant to the business manager, $14,000.

Also approved by the board were hourly wages for clerical personnel, noon hour supervisors and crossing guards. Maximum hourly rates for clerical staff in three categories went from $3.90 to $4.20 for secretary I; $4.80 to $5 for secretary II; and the wage remained the same at $5.50 for account clerks.

Noon hour supervisors maximum hourly wages for elementary supervisors went from $2.75 to $3.25, and for secondary supervisors from $3.10 to $3.25. Maximum hourly wages for crossing guards remained the same at $3.50.

The board approved a contract with Food Systems Corp., New York, N.Y., for total management of the schools' lunch program. Stacey said the new management would not displace any lunch program employees currently employed by the district. He said the district felt it could have a better program with professional lunch program management. Cost of the service will be four and a half percent of the lunch program revenue.

The board accepted low bids on two projects including roof repairs at the high school, McKinley and Patrick Hamilton schools; and for repairs to the Central school boiler room.

Hercules Roofing Co., Dowagiac, was the low of two bidders for the school roof repairs with a total bid of $28,225. Harrington Co., Grand Rapids, was the low of two bidders for boiler room repairs with a bid of $12,750.

The board was informed that the district had received a federal grant of $63,785 for its Title 4 program for next year. The grant, through the Department of Health, Education and Welfare funds programs, is geared to under-achievers,

Buchanan Plans Change In Refuse Pickup Rules

BUCHANAN — The Buchanan city commission last night authorized William Desenberg, city attorney, to prepare an amendment to clarify the city health and litter ordinance, as a result of complaints from neighbors about what they said was a refuse buildup at 12 apartments owned by Al Orput in the 500 block of Arctic street.

Joseph Bachman, director of public works for the city, said his men are ordered to pick up only refuse that is bagged or in some other container. Bachman said there is a lot of loose garbage in the enclosure provided by Orput for refuse at the apartments.

Jess Nobles, 503 Arctic street, who presented the council with a petition signed by neighbors and some residents of the apartments asking the commission for action, said the structure for garbage storage is flimsy and children tear the boards off, letting dogs and cats in to tear open the plastic bags.

In a letter to the council, Orput said he had advised tenants to bag trash and to put it into containers. He said he did not think he should be held responsible for a situation over which he had no control. He further offered to turn over the deed to the property to a committee of citizens if they would "assume the outstanding obligations, plus $1."

Gene Wesner, commission member, said the enclosure provided by Orput is inadequate and cannot be cleaned out thoroughly. "All the other apartment owners contract for garbage collection service that provides a closed container which is removed and replaced. I don't see why he (Orput) can't do the same," said Wesner.

The commission said Orput will be advised of the proposed amendment to the ordinance, which would exclude multiple-family dwellings from city trash pickup. The amendment is expected to be ready by the next commission meeting, July 25.

project. The hearings are required by the Department of Housing and Urban Development to approve the transfer of funds from work on Riverside park and a proposed senior citizens center, to housing and rehabilitation projects.

Douglas Bobo was appointed to the parks and recreation board to fill the vacancy left by the death of Milt Vigansky.

Buchanan Bus Drivers' Pact OK'd By Board

BUCHANAN — The Buchanan school board last night approved a new one-year contract with school bus drivers calling for a 10-cent per hour pay hike.

Under the new contract, representing 12 full-time drivers, the minimum hourly rate for drivers will now be $1.10. Dr. Earl Hogan, superintendent, said.

In other areas, the board elected a new president in its annual reorganizational meeting. Mrs. Jeannette Mahan was named to replace William Moon, outgoing president. Moon lost in a bid for re-election to the board in June.

Re-elected vice president was Paul DeVos. Elected secretary, to replace Mrs. Mahan, was Mrs. Mary Beth Larson. Robert Luke was elected treasurer.

The board voted to drop a monthly work session, held on the second Monday of the month, and now hold only one official board meeting, to continue to be held on the third Monday.

Also during the reorganizational session, the board voted to continue to retain Buchanan Atty. William Kelly as school attorney, and voted to retain the Lansing firm of Thrun, Maatsch and Nordberg until Sept. 1. DeVos said he moved to retain the Lansing firm until only September, so that the possibility of hiring other counsel could be considered after that date. DeVos said he was "not satisfied" with the firm's work.

Two amendments to board policy were approved. The purchasing policy was revised to allow the superintendent or assistant superintendent to make purchases of up to $2,500 without prior board approval. Anything over that amount must be approved by the board.

The second change was in the board agenda. The public will now have two opportunities to speak out at meetings, one near the beginning and the second near the end.

The board approved the following appointments of trustees: George Merrill to the Berrien-Cass School Board association; Luke as the board's legislative representative and alternate to the Berrien county intermediate school district; DeVos as the board voting representative to the Berrien intermediate district, and John Imber as the board's liaison to the Michigan Association of School Boards. Appointment of a representative to the Buchanan area Recreation board was tabled.

The board approved seeking permission from the state municipal finance commission to borrow up to $750,000 in anticipation of tax revenue.

The board gave permission to the administration to seek bids on the sale of three used school buses. The resignation of Mrs. Margaret Henderson, an elementary school teacher with over 25 years of service in education, was accepted.

In other action, the commission authorized the Jack Knight Memorial Chapel committee to proceed with construction plans and bidding for the Jack Knight Memorial Chapel which is to be erected in the city cemetery. The engineer's fee, to be paid from the perpetual care fund, is not to exceed $5,500 at this time, according to the motion passed by the commission.

Jack Knight, a World War I pilot, was born and raised in Buchanan. Called "Sky" Knight, he flew the first night air mail in 1921, from North Platte, Neb., to Chicago.

Mayor Richard Gault, Wesner and R. W. Bellaire were appointed members of an appeal board on unemployment compensation for city employees.

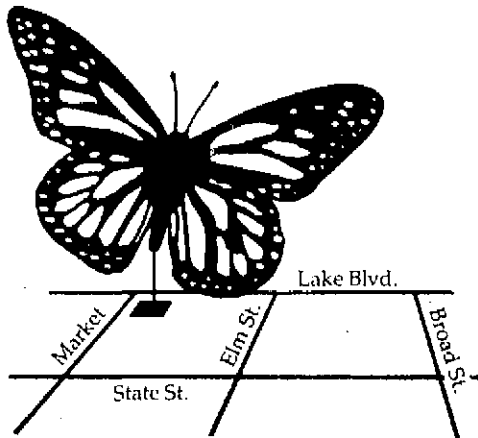

The commission set public hearings July 25 and Aug. 8 on budget revisions to the 1975-76 community development

Piping Hot

DETROIT (AP) — They've been going nuts trying to figure out why the dazzling $337 million Renaissance Center has been suffering two or three false fire alarms a day since it opened in April.

Now they know. They put the heat sensors near the steam pipes.

Each time an alarm sounds, a nearby fire station has to send seven or more trucks, costing the taxpayers about $125.

Victor Dezenzo, head of the city's electrical department, said officials believe the alarms will stop as more space comes into use requiring hot water in the coming months, reducing the average temperature of the pipes.

Galien Will Seek $8,500 U.S. Grant

GALIEN — The Galien village council last night voted to seek an $8,500 federal planning grant to fund a study of the growth potential of the village.

Cripps and Associates, Berrien Springs, was named to apply for the grant, under a program administered by the state. Sandra Ostrander, village clerk, said the study could lead to a master plan for the village and a new zoning ordinance.

In other areas, the council took several actions related to federal community development funded projects. Four rehabilitation projects of private homes were approved. The projects and property owners are:

Jean Cowles, 306 George street, $6,369; Mrs. Fred Thorson, 215 Southeastern avenue, $2,800; Gary Darnell, 303 George street, $4,130; and William Winfield, 305 George street, $5,000. The clerk said all projects were to bring the homes up to village building code standards.

Mrs. Helen Skibbe, Southeastern avenue, is to be contacted by Louis Desenberg, village attorney, and informed that a property is to be removed immediately, the council said. The council had earlier approved demolition of two barns on the property, to be funded by the federal project. One barn was removed, but work on the second is not completed, the council said. Mrs. Skibbe is to be informed that if the barn is not removed immediately, it will be done by the village and she will be assessed the cost of the work, the council said.

The council also authorized demolition and removal of an abandoned house at the John Kinch property, Sherman street. Kinch is an Elkhart, Ind., resident, the clerk reported. The project will be funded by the community development grant.

Three Berrien Drug Dealers Get Prison

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Three drug dealers were sentenced to prison yesterday in Berrien Circuit court, and two of them received concurrent prison terms for other offenses.

The three were arrested on drug charges in May during raids led by the Berrien Metro narcotics squad.

Judge William S. White imposed prison terms on Kevin L. Shelton, 18, of 1505 Thompson drive, Niles. He was sentenced to 3 to 7 years for delivery of LSD, and 3 to 10 years for breaking and entering.

Shelton was accused of delivering LSD Feb. 1 in Niles, and breaking into Shelton's farm market in Niles township on Feb. 18. The market is owned by Kevin Shelton's father.

White also sentenced Timothy L. Colcord, 19, of 1264 Rose drive, Niles, to 2 to 5 years in prison for attempted delivery of LSD Feb. 1 in Niles.

Judge Julian E. Hughes sentenced Corwin Stahl, 18, of 404 Fourth street, Niles, to 32 to 48 months in prison for delivery of marijuana Jan. 20 in Niles. Stahl then received a 2 to 4-year prison term from Judge Chester J. Byrns for a probation violation — pleading guilty to the drug charge. Stahl had been placed on two years probation by Byrns in December, 1975, for receiving and concealing stolen property valued at more than $100.

In other sentences by Hughes: Neil G. Dillenbeck, 21, of Niles, was placed on one year probation and assessed $250 fine and costs for attempted delivery of PCP (an animal tranquilizer) March 31 in Niles.

Mark L. Totzke, 18, of 2745 Orange, Niles, was ordered to spend the first 90 days of a three-year probation in jail, and was assessed $250 fine and costs, for unlawfully driving away a vehicle owned by American Rustproofing Co. in Buchanan on Feb. 15.

In other sentences by White: Billy L. Harmon, 18, of 808 Commercial street, Buchanan, received two years probation, with the first four months in jail, for unlawful use of a vehicle, a pickup truck owned by James Groons, March 24 in Baroda.

Dean M. Delaney, 20, of Red Arrow highway, Watervliet, was sentenced to the first 90 days of a two-year probation in jail and assessed $400 fine and costs for uttering and publishing a bad check for $15 July 21, 1976, in Watervliet township.

Ralph D. Reed, 28, of 8465 East Napier avenue, rural Benton Harbor, was placed on two years probation for driving under the influence of intoxicants second offense March 7 on Main street, Benton Harbor.

Gregory A. Radka, 17, of 1624 Hickory street, Niles, was sentenced to two years probation for attempted breaking and entering United Tire and Auto parts in Niles on March 17.

Timothy Billinger, 29, of Chicago, got two years probation for possession of cocaine Dec. 7, 1975, in St. Joseph township.

In arraignments before White:

Andrew W. Killin, 18, of 340 North Eagle street, New Buffalo, pleaded guilty to entering the residence of Floyd Orange without breaking Jan. 13 in New Buffalo.

Leander Lewis, 37, of 1118 Broadway, Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty to carrying a concealed weapon, a revolver, May 25 in Benton Harbor.

Chris S. Hecklesburg, 18, of 1645 Northfield drive, Niles, pleaded guilty to delivery of PCP Jan. 21 in Niles.

In arraignments before Hughes:

Kenneth Tyson, 17, of 809 Colfax avenue, Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty to larceny from a person — the theft of a purse from Verna Warren May 30 in Benton Harbor.

Mark E. Allen, 22, of 0655 Cleveland avenue, Stevensville, pleaded in contest to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, a knife, against Rose Meadow June 8 at 5558 Red Arrow highway, Stevensville.

Henry Cooper, 20, of 103 Calfax, Benton Harbor, pleaded innocent to a charge of armed robbery, allegedly using a bottle to rob Richard Davis of cash June 21 at the Colfax Inn in Benton Harbor.

In arraignments before Judge Zoe S. Burkholz:

Reuben T. Holliday, Jr., 25, of 1808 Lillian, Benton township, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the Office Lounge in Benton Harbor with intent to commit safe burglary May 20.

Benjamin K. Jones, 18, of New Troy, pleaded guilty to uttering and publishing a bad check for $84 Feb. 4 in Three Oaks.

Dentist's Request Denied

HOUGHTON (AP) — A federal court's refusal to grant an injunction blocking a state dental board hearing into a dentist's advertising practices is a setback to the consumer, says the dentist who sought the order. Dr. Robert O. Nara of Houghton is the subject of complaints from the Copper Country Dental Society about his listing in the local telephone directory. Nara, 40, lists himself as a practitioner of aramides, which he says is an innovative dental service to preserve natural teeth for a lifetime. The specialty is unrecognized by state dental associations, he says. Nara's request for an injunction, denied last week by U.S. District Court Judge Noel Fox, would have blocked a state Board of Dentistry hearing into the local complaint. Fox said the case was a state action and should not involve the federal courts. Nara said the lack of an injunction would not affect some $11 million in lawsuits he has pending against the American and Michigan Dental Association and the Copper Country Dental Society.

Confessed Husband Killer Handed Life In Prison

Victoria Ann Hollis, 29, of Benton Harbor, was sentenced yesterday in Berrien Circuit court to life imprisonment for the 1976 murder of her husband, John, who was found shot to death in a bathtub.

Judge Julian E. Hughes called the slaying "a cold-blooded murder" in sentencing Mrs. Hollis for second degree murder. John Hollis was found dead June 21, 1976, in a bathtub at the couple's home at 708 Pavone street.

"I have given this case a great deal of consideration and I can only come to the conclusion that it was a cold-blooded murder," Hughes said. "I find no mitigating circumstances in this case."

On April 5, 1977, the Hollis' son, Tommy, 3, died of injuries allegedly sustained in a beating. Mrs. Hollis was allowed to plead guilty to second degree murder in exchange for statements about her husband's murder and the death of her son, according to Assistant Prosecutor Scott Beatty. He said Mrs. Hollis also agreed to testify should any prosecution arise from the two deaths.

David J. Hall, 29, identified in court testimony as a boyfriend of Mrs. Hollis, has been charged with murdering Tommy Hollis.

Hall has had a preliminary examination, but there has been no ruling because that hearing was adjourned for a forensic examination. Hall was recently found incompetent to stand trial, and has been remanded to the care of the Center for Forensic Psychiatry at Ypsilanti un-

Van Buren Judge Sends Three Men To Prison

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Three men were sentenced to prison terms and three others were handed jail sentences Monday in cases before Judge Meyer Warshawsky in Van Buren circuit court.

While Ingram, 48, Niles, was ordered to serve from 21 months to five years in prison on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, an automatic pistol, in a car on M-51 near Decatur on Oct. 31, 1975.

Ingram was convicted of the charge by a circuit court jury April 27.

Sentenced as a result of earlier guilty pleas were:

Andrew Warren, 36, formerly of South Haven, from 28 to 45 months in prison on a charge of attempting to carry a concealed weapon, a sawed off .22-caliber rifle, in Covert township during June, 1975. He was given credit for 317 days already spent in custody.

Oscar Lee Jones, 33, Kalamazoo, from three to five years in prison, with 245 days credit, on a charge of attempted forgery of a check for $245 in South Haven on Nov. 20, 1975.

Johnny Leo Brown, 19, route

2, 90th avenue, Hartford, eight months in jail and one year of probation on a charge of attempting to break and enter the P&J Restaurant, Sister Lakes, last December. Brown was given credit for 218 days spent in custody.

James Junior Rahnes, 23, Pennville, also known as Danny Lee Kemp, four months in jail with 42 days credit, and one year of probation on a charge of breaking and entering a Bangor township home April 15.

Douglas Lee Clark, 30, 105 South Maple, Hartford, four months in jail, with 21 days credit, on a charge of probation violation. Clark had been placed on two years probation last November on a charge of attempted larceny in a building.

In arraignments, Fred Lebeda, 21, 56th street, Lawrence, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to break and enter a barn on 60th street, Hartford township, last Sept. 19.

Ricky Glenn Jackson, 23, route 2, Watervliet, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted larceny in a building, cigarettes from Miller's Supermarket, Koster township, on March 8. Guy Wishon, 68, 80th street, South Haven, pleaded innocent to a charge of first degree criminal sexual conduct involving an alleged assault on a four-year-old girl in South Haven last month.

Tommy Lee Toward, 17, route 1, Covert, pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with intent to commit murder in connection with the June 12 stabbing of Donny Jones of South Haven.

Ross Worcester, 47, Gobles, pleaded innocent to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses over $100. He is accused of having reported about $1,700 worth of household items as stolen during December, 1975, collecting the insurance money, then selling the items.

Steven Lee Adams, 18, 1480 Leverssee road, Paw Paw, pleaded innocent to a charge of breaking and entering the C&G party store, Paw Paw, on May 25.

Terrance Smith, 22, 501 Green, South Haven, pleaded innocent to a charge of breaking and entering Jack's Super Value grocery store, 237 Broadway, on June 2.

Maekeral Wayne Jackson, 27, South Haven, pleaded innocent to a charge of breaking and entering a Geneva township home April 15.

Suspect Asks Hearing In Shooting Of Woman

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

A man arrested after a woman was shot in the face Saturday in a Benton township house demanded examination Monday in Berrien District court on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Jailed under $10,000 bond was Ronald V. Stibbins, 36, of 777 East Napier avenue, apartment J-10, Fairplain. He is charged with shooting Shirley Yesko, 50, same address as Stibbins, in a house on East Britain avenue.

Mrs. Yesko was listed in "serious" condition at Mercy hospital Monday evening. Police said she was shot in the face, apparently by a person armed with a handgun.

Elsie L. Bramley (also known as Lewis), 50, of Weechick road, New Troy, demanded examination on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. She failed to post bond of $2,500.

She is accused of pointing an unloaded .22 caliber rifle at Trooper William Cahill, of the Benton Harbor post, at her home July 9.

Michael F. Dedoe, 21, of Matteson, Ill., accused of possession of amphetamines at Warren Dunes state park July 10, demanded examination Monday. He was jailed under $2,500 bond.

James L. Chenoweth, 19, of 821 State street, St. Joseph, demanded examination on a charge of breaking into a concession stand at Waka beach, Lake township, July 11. Bond of $5,000 was not posted.

Three people demanded examinations on charges of carrying concealed weapons Saturday and Sunday. They were: James M. Thomas, 40, of Denver, Colo., who failed to post bond of $3,500.

Randy L. Baethel, 20, of 579 Wedgewood road, St. Joseph township, jailed in lieu of $1,500 bail.

John W. Dandridge, 53, of Madison, Ill., freed on $5,000 bond.

Steve L. Davis, 18, of Tinley Park, Ill., pleaded innocent to a charge of assault and battery against Chikaming township Patrolman William Tucker July 9. He posted bond of $2,500.

Jeffrey Lane Catania, 19, of 511 Howard avenue, St. Joseph, was sentenced to fine and costs of $50 for obtaining the drug valium with a false prescription at Stange's Village pharmacy, Stevensville, July 9. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced by District Judge Ronald J. Taylor.

Richard W. Pinadester, 26, of 211 Birdie avenue, Benton township, was sentenced to three days in jail and $65 for driving while intoxicated and $105 or 20 days in jail for discourse with intent to intimidate — giving police a false name. The violations occurred Sept. 8, 1976, in Benton Harbor.

Others sentenced were: William T. Schoenau, 18, of Midolthian, Ill., $175 or 35 days in jail for fleeing police in New Buffalo township July 3.

Kent E. Janninus, 17, of 808 Jones street, St. Joseph, $125 or 30 days in jail for petty larceny of wine from the St. Joseph Mini Mart July 9.

Daniel A. Kiser, 31, of 3863 Boyer road, Coloma, $152 or 30 days in jail for driving under the influence of intoxicants in Coloma July 8.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Use of marijuana — Gilberto Gonzales, 18, and Kathy A. Cass, 19, both of South Bend; John L. Morris, 19, of Griffith; and Paul M. Perez, 18, of East Chicago, all of Indiana, $50 each.

Impaired driving — Melton T. Sanders, 37, of South Bend, $152; Roman Idkowiak, 28, of 15113 Namene avenue, Union Pier, $105 or 20 days in jail; Michael R. Nolan, 18, of Chicago, Ill., $100 or 30 days in jail.

JUDGE BACKS STEVENSVILLE MAN

Wins Round In Support Hassle

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer
A Stevensville man's bureaucratic hassles ended yesterday in Berrien Circuit court — at least temporarily — when a Berrien judge upheld another judge's order that the man didn't have to pay child support. Judge Chester J. Byrns dismissed a URESA action which had been filed by California authorities against Roger Randall, of 4817 Michigan street. URESA is the Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act, which oversees support payments when the children live in a different state from the parent supporting them.

According to Randall and Berrien Assistant Prosecutor John Fields:

Randall and his wife, Carolyn, were granted a divorce Aug. 16, 1973 in Kent county, with Randall's wife receiving custody of two daughters, now ages 7 and 8.

The divorce decree ordered that Mrs. Randall was not to take the children from the state without permission of the court. But she and the children moved to California.

Since she had violated the court order, Randall got another court order from a Kent county judge terminating his support payments on Oct. 15, 1973. Mrs. Randall went on public assistance in California, and a Los Angeles court then initiated a URESA action against Randall to get him to pay support so that the money could reimburse California for what it was paying Mrs. Randall.

Fields said that although he personally did not feel the URESA action was justified, the prosecuting attorney's office is required by law to enforce its provisions, so Randall was cited into court to show why he should not be required to pay support.

Randall produced his Kent county order dismissing support, and Byrns dismissed the URESA action. In making the dismissal, Fields said Byrns noted that all circuit courts in Michigan are equal, so there was no reason why one circuit judge should overrule another.

Randall was represented in the hearing by Stevensville Atty. John Collins.

New Principal Hired By Board At Bloom'dale

BLOOMINGDALE — A new high school principal was hired last night by the Bloomington school board.

Hired at a salary of $18,900 was Paul Storm of Caledonia. Storm, 38, has his bachelor's and master's degrees and has served as teacher, athletic director, assistant principal and community school director in Caledonia, school officials said.

He replaces Dr. Stanley Bushouse whose resignation is effective July 31. Bushouse came to Bloomington in September, 1975.

In other areas, the board approved salary boosts for the middle and elementary school principals and the transportation - building - grounds director and the business manager. Lawrence Kress, middle school principal, was given a pay hike from $17,200 up to $18,000 for the coming year and James Scholley, elementary principal, had his salary set at $18,700, up from his 1976-77 salary of $18,375.

The salary of Stephen Nickerson, transportation - building - grounds director, was boosted from $12,875 to $14,000, and the salary of business manager Evelyn Buckholz was raised from $11,000 to $12,000.

In its organizational meeting, the board elected James Muenzer as president for the coming year. He defeated incumbent Board President Kay Johnson by a 5 to 2 margin in a secret ballot.

On unanimous ballots, Fred Rawson was elected board secretary; Raymond Melvin was elected treasurer; and Ronald Bodke was elected legislative representative.

Also last night, the board tabled a proposal to hold drivers' education only in the summer and voted to begin looking at possible school building construction plans.

BARNARD TO RETIRE
DETROIT (AP) — South African heart surgeon Dr. Christian Barnard will retire in a year or two because his hands are severely crippled by arthritis, according to the Detroit News.

Roger Popp Takes Over As New Eau Claire Chief

EAU CLAIRE — The Eau Claire village council last night named Roger Popp, 30, 6834 East Napier avenue, Benton Harbor, as the new village police chief.

Popp replaces Robert Wohler, who resigned in November of last year. The position had remained unfilled until last night's naming of Popp as chief.

Popp said he will be paid an annual salary of $10,000. He said he is a veteran of seven years of law enforcement, most recently employed by Scope Security Services, St. Joseph. Popp said he was also a former Benton township and Phoenix, Ariz., policeman.

Popp and his wife, Barbara, have two children.

He began serving as chief today.

Also last night the council voted immediate pay raises of 25 cents an hour to the village's four part-time policemen. Township Clerk Ruth L. Sharpe said the four men, who will now be paid $3.25 an hour, haven't had raises "in quite a while."

Charles R. Eckenstahler, county planning director, told the council that under current regulations for a building inspector, anyone can be appointed to the job. But, he added that within a year or so state tests will have to be passed. He named a $150 book the village might purchase to teach an inspector how to do the job. The council took no action. It has been told by the state that the village needs a building inspector.

Bill Durham, trustee, said he will get estimates for re-roofing the township hall fire station building. He said the roof leaks.

The council voted to install a narrower gate at the Eau Claire middle school tennis courts to prevent bicyclists from riding on the courts.

Because parked vehicles nearly block Fourth street sometimes, the council voted to ban parking on the east side of the street, from Main street to Ivy court, immediately. "No Parking" signs will be posted.

Ronald Karn complained during the meeting that he pays a $6.50 monthly sewer assessment for his home on Fifth street, even though the dwelling is served by a septic tank and is not hooked to the village sewer system. Trustee Frank James told Karn he would investigate the complaint.

Udall Admits Gifts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arizona Rep. Morris K. Udall, a Democratic presidential contender last year, says he was among the congressmen who received money from South Korean businessman Tongsun Park.

Two other senior members of Congress also said Monday they received money from Park, in the form of campaign contributions in 1970, in an apparent attempt to influence votes for military aid to South Korea.

Bangor School Board Elects Slate Of Officers

BANGOR — All officers of the Bangor school board were re-elected last night in the annual reorganizational meeting of the board.

Re-elected were Otto Watkins, president; Mildred Royal, vice president; Peggy Phillips, secretary; and Phillip Wiles, treasurer.

In other areas, the board tabled action on five bids for sealing all asphalt parking lots at the schools, according to Supt. Fred Stap. Stap said the board wanted time to review the bids. Apparent low bidder for the project was Oakley and Oldfield, Kalamazoo, with a bid of $7,402.11 of the five was $13,540. The board voted to retain the Lansing law firm of Thrin, Maatsch and Nordberg as counsel in a tax appeal involving a township attempt to gain an additional allocation from a 15-mill non-voted property tax rate in the county. All other districts in the county have retained the same firm and will share costs. The board voted to seek bids in the sale of an approximately 10-year-old school bus.

Decatur Gets Set For Hot Lunches

DECATUR — The Decatur school board last night voted to have the school's architect advertise for equipment for a hot lunch program.

Supt. Wayne Heffenga said it is not likely that the equipment will be installed before the beginning of the second semester of the coming school year.

The board has been planning the hot lunch project for about a year. The school's architect, Guido Binda Associates of Battle Creek, will advertise the project.

In its re-organizational meeting, the board elected Charles Carson as board president. He defeated incumbent Harry Vick by a 4 to 3 margin. Vick was then elected vice president. Emma Jean Stanbick was re-elected board secretary and George Kusniak, the incumbent vice president, was elected treasurer.

The board voted to continue to hold meetings the second Monday of each month, but moved up the starting time by 30 minutes.

In the months of May through August, the board meetings will begin at 8 p.m. instead of 8:30, and September through April, the meetings will begin at 7:30 p.m. instead of 8.

The board also voted to intervene in proceedings before the state tax tribunal in a case where townships are attempting to overturn the division of the 15-mill non-voted property tax rate in the county. The schools get part of the rate.

Elected president

Arsonist Taunts Tacoma Police

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — He calls himself "your friendly North End arsonist" and leaves letter threats in garbage cans. No one has been injured in 31 fires attributed to him, but police are worried.

The arsonist left police a letter in a garbage can Monday saying to "kill all the dirty rats that roam the streets all night." He taunted, "you won't catch me" and promised to strike again with "my own night of terror" with "everything from arson to murder."

Two Rezoning Requests In Watervliet Township

WATERVLIET — Plans for an apartment building and a custom welding shop were presented to the Watervliet township board last night in two separate. Martin Krussink of Fairview Beach has asked for rezoning of a 140 by 114-foot lot on Lake avenue from R-1 residential to R-2 residential which allows multiple-family dwellings. The land is near the township's Woodland Beach park. The board approved the project for a four or five unit apartment building pending approval of the planning commission.

James and Donald Regel submitted petitions for the rezoning of four acres on the east side of M-140 north of Watervliet and north of Blatchford road from agricultural to commercial. They want to build a custom welding and fabrication shop. Adjoining property owners have approved the change. The board approved sending the plans to the planning commission for its August meeting. No cost estimates were given for either project.

In other areas, the board voted to notify Jack Cammaven of Coloma township that it has no objections to his proposal to install steel shoring near the M-140 bridge north of the city to help maintain the water level of Paw Paw Lake. Cammaven made the offer at the board's meeting last night to install the shoring at his own expense. The board noted that Cammaven would need the approval of the Army Corps of Engineers, Department of Natural Resources and Berrien

Decaturites Honor Retiring Official

DECATUR — More than 100 well-wishers gathered at the Decatur township hall here over the weekend for a retirement party for Max Graham, village street department superintendent. Graham is retiring after 20 years with the street department. The party Sunday and a dinner Saturday night at Gateway restaurant, Paw Paw, were both sponsored by the village council here. The council presented Graham with a watch as its token of appreciation, while at Sunday's gathering he was presented with cash amounting to about $700 donated by village residents. Graham and his wife, Catherine, plan a full trip through the eastern states.

county before construction could begin.

In a related matter the board appointed Art Anderson of Windemere landing as the township's representative to the Paw Paw Lake Improvement board that has been working with county officials on lake problems.

An application for snowstorm damages amounting to $2,632 for claims covering Jan. 28 through Feb. 9 was approved. The claim will be submitted through the county to the state.

Officials announced that the township dump is closed and residents can take their refuse to the Orchard Hill sanitary landfill operated by Automated Disposal Systems in Hennessey road between Dan Smith and Ryno roads. The landfill is open to the public Monday through Fridays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

In answer to complaints from residents the board announced that the Berrien sheriff's department is cooperating with the township by patrolling the township's two public beaches and the DNR fishing site on North Watervliet road. Problems arising from late night parties after the park is closed have been reported.

The board agreed to put up a warning curve sign on Shady drive at Forest Beach to help slow down traffic in the area.

Tabled for further study was a proposal to give four township employees holiday pay.

Eau Claire Okays Clerical Contract

EAU CLAIRE — The Eau Claire school board last night approved a two-year contract for school clerical staff that included 10 per cent pay hikes in the first year and a 12 per cent boost in the second year.

Dr. William Horie, school superintendent, said that the nine clerical employees are divided into classifications of bookkeeper, principals' secretaries and clerical staff. Under the new agreement, maximum hourly wages in the three areas respectively are $4.55, $4.30 and $4.67.

In other action at a re-organizational meeting, the board re-elected three officers and elected a new treasurer. Re-elected were Reva Murphy, president; William Renbarger, vice president; and Bruce Dustin, secretary. Elected treasurer was Thomas Ferry, Sr.

A policy was approved for free and reduced price lunches for qualifying students which will allow the district to continue to receive federal funding for the lunch program. Dr. Horie said.

RIVER VALLEY BOND ISSUE Ask November Vote Date

THREE OAKS — The River Valley school board last night voted to ask county officials for a November date for a special election on a bond issue that would pay for construction of a new middle school.

In getting the authority to seek the special election date, Dr. Charles Williams, superintendent, said that the cost and building site have not yet been determined. No specific date for an election was mentioned.

The board's action comes after a 14-member committee in late June recommended that the district build a new school to replace its two, 50-year-old middle school buildings.

Two previous $3.5 million bond issues proposed to pay for middle school construction have been rejected by the district's voters.

Williams said the 14-member committee will be reconstituted and expanded to develop additional recommendations and to help get voter support for the building proposal.

In other action, the board voted to seek state permission to borrow $300,000 for six months against anticipated state school aid payments, and voted to apply in the state for up to $23,227 in state aid debt retirement reimbursement.

The board also gave the administration authority to annually advertise for bids on such items as bread, milk, oil and gasoline. The board would still retain its right to approve contracts for the goods.

The board approved the purchase of $5,547 in equipment for the high school machine shop. The board did not get bids for the equipment.

In its annual reorganization, the board re-elected its incumbent officers. Re-elected were Carl Anderson as president; James Schreiber, vice president; Mary E. Ray, secretary; and Larry Mitchell, treasurer.

Building Inspector Will Quit Royalton On Dec. 31

William Nace, Royalton township building inspector since 1956, announced his resignation from the post, effective Dec. 31, at last night's township board meeting.

Nace, 60, of 524 Marquette Woods road, St. Joseph, announced the resignation now in order to give the board time to seek a replacement, according to Otto Jasper, township clerk.

In other areas, the board voted to authorize the Berrien county road commission to blacktop .82 miles of streets in the Hollywood Heights subdivision at a total cost of $23,300. The township will pay half, and the county the remainder, Jasper said.

Hipskind Building Supply, Coloma, was awarded a $1,468 contract to build a 24 by 28-foot storage building at the township park. The firm was the lowest of three bidders, Jasper said.

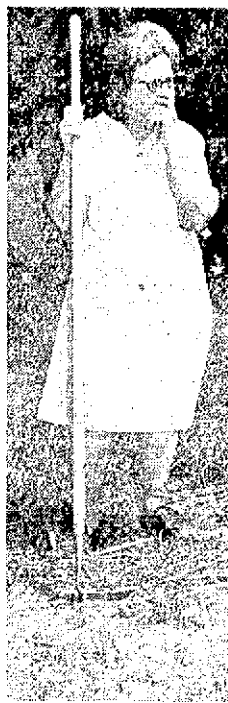

Other bids authorized included Wards Duraclean Specialists, St. Joseph, $670 for painting the township hall, lowest of two bidders, and Eldon Lamsch, Stevensville, $350 for reroofing the south portion of the township hall, lowest of two bidders.

The board voted to rezone one acre of land, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jasper and located at the corner of Niles road and Jasper road, from agriculture residential to retail business. The land was formerly zoned business, but reverted to the agriculture zone when a new township zoning ordinance was approved in 1976, the clerk said.

The board authorized increasing insurance on con-tenants at the cemetery building from $750 to $1,500. The agent is John DeVries Agency, St. Joseph. Jasper said cost of the increase has not yet been determined.

The board declared July 18-23 as CanAm-Olympian Games week. In conjunction with the Berrien county Olympic games, CanAm games will be staged this year in Brant county, Ontario, Canada, Aug. 12-14.

ALL GONE: Mrs. Ouida Parsons, Tecumseh, Okla., stands in what remains of her once-beautiful flower garden. Last month, authorities discovered beautiful poppies Mrs. Parsons had been growing for the past 40 years were, unknown to her, opium poppies. Garden had to be destroyed. (AP Wirephoto)

Gobles Board Re-Elects President, Vice President

GOBLES — The president and vice president of the Gobles school board were re-elected in split votes last night, but during the board's annual reorganizational session a new secretary and treasurer were named.

Carl Gilbert was re-elected president on a 5-1 vote, with Clyde Crawford, who was re-elected vice president, getting the single ballot in secret voting.

Crawford was re-elected vice president on a 4-3 vote, with board member Ray Dietrich getting the three ballots.

In other balloting, Mrs. Linda Hurst, treasurer last year, was elected secretary on a 4-3 vote. The past secretary, Mrs. Mary Sutherby received three votes.

Elected treasurer on a 5-2 vote was new board member Mrs. Dianne Carpenter. Board member Ralph Fawcett received the two ballots.

In other areas, the board voted to continue to meet on the second and fourth Monday of the month, at 7:30 p.m. in the school library. The second Monday will be a regular session, and the fourth Monday meeting will be special session. The special meetings will be held unless board members are otherwise notified, the board added.

The board approved continuing its student insurance policy with First Insurance Co., Kalamazoo, at a cost of $3.06 per student, with the school district paying the costs. Last year, the rate was $2.79 per student.

The board voted to retain Lansing Atty. Robert Thrun to represent the school district in a state tax tribunal appeal of the Van Buren county tax allocation formula. Fifteen townships have joined in an effort to overturn the formula dividing the county non-voted millage rate. Part of the rate goes to school districts.

Mrs. Joanne Shortt of the district asked the board to hire two music instructors, instead of the one now teaching all kindergarten through 12th grade students. She also asked that a special custodian be hired to patrol girls' restrooms to combat smoking there. The board said it would study both requests.

Supt. Guy Leversee reported that a 1970 school-owned pickup truck was stolen from the storage building behind the high school on July 3. He said the truck would have to be replaced if it is not recovered.

Mrs. Hurst, as board secretary, was named the board's liaison with the Michigan Association of School Boards.

Carter Backing Troubled Lance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is coming to the support of his budget director, Bert Lance, whose personal financial difficulties could prove embarrassing for an administration pledged to balancing the federal budget.

The budget director confirmed in an interview he stands to lose considerable money, hypothetically as much as $1.7 million, if forced to sell his stock holdings in the National Bank of Georgia at its current low price. Lance was president of the bank before coming to Washington with Carter.

Three Oaks Twp. Buys Disputed Plot

THREE OAKS — The Three Oaks township board last night approved the purchase of a small parcel of land where ownership has been in dispute. The board voted to pay Mr. and Mrs. George Veneklasen $500 for the roughly six-tenths of an acre of land located in the corner of Forest lawn cemetery. Township officials said the purchase resolves the conflict between the township and Veneklasens over ownership of the land. In other areas, the board appointed Ronald Golink to a vacancy on the township zoning board and appointed James Boughner to fill a vacancy on the township board of appeals.
